AMERICAN TOPICS.

THE PEACE ADDRESS.

The London Times has an editorial on the address, with three hundred thousand signatures, recently sent to Gov. Seymour from England, entreating the North to make peace with the South.

The Times says the address signed by these three hundred thousand gentlemen can effect just nothing, and thinks the only solution of the question is continued war. America has commenced the fiery ordeal of war which settled Europe on its present basis, and terrible as is the process, the Times cannot doubt that America will be the better for it in the end.

The Times, in a leader on the intelligence by the Arabia, says:

"At this moment all the Northern accounts must be received very cautiously. Every incident in the field is, if possible, made to serve the purpose of the Government party in the Presidential election, and if the brightest account is believed for a few hours, the object is gained."

GREAT BRITAIN.

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT.

The Times says: "The Lord Chancellor and the commissioners who will be appointed by Her Majesty, assemble in the House of Lords on Thursday next, the 13th, for the purpose of prorogueing Parliament until Nov. 11. There seems to be misapprehension in the public mind, and erroneous statements have appeared in several papers in reference to the duration of the present Parliament. It was 'begun and holden on the 21st of May, 1859,' and will not legally expire until the close of next year. According to the usual practice, the dissolution will take place next Spring, and the new Parliament assemble in November following for a short time, and then adjourn to February or March for the transaction of general business."

MULLER'S TRIAL.

The Observer says:

"There is every probability that Muller will take his trial at the October Sessions of the Central Criminal Court, to open on the 24th inst., as in reply to a communication from the Solicitor to the Treasury, the solicitor for the prisoner has stated that he will be quite ready for his defence by that time. The prosecution will be conducted by the Solicitor-General, Mr. Gifford, and Mr. Beasley on the part of the Crown. Mr. Sergeant Parry, is specially retained, with Mr. Metcalf and Mr. Besley for the defence. Muller being entitled to be tried by a jury of half Englishmen and half foreigners, will, it is understood, avail himself of the privilege. It is currently rumored that such a constitution of the jury is one of the grounds upon which he places his reliance for acquittal."

The London Star says:

"Paragraphs have appeared in several papers stating that it had been definitely settled that the trial of Muller would take place at the next sessions of the Central Criminal Court. This is incorrect. It is by no means certain that the trial will then take place; and neither Mr. Beard nor the committee having charge of the defence, have authorized the statement. The Times of Monday said that Muller depended chiefly for his acquittal on obtaining a mixed jury of Englishmen and foreigners. Of course, the absurdity of such a statement is plain enough, since it is not likely that even if Muller depended on such a thing he would make it known. We believe that the German Legal Protection Society has resolutely set its face against affording any newspaper any information as to the course which is being taken in respect to the trial."

THE COMMERCIAL DEPRESSION.

Commercial affairs continued to be the principal topic of discussion.

The depression in commercial circles shows no diminution, and business, especially in cotton, is almost at a dead-lock, and prices continue to fall.

The additional failures which have taken place include Louis Spelts, large cotton dealer in Liverpool, with liabilities amounting to £320,000 sterling; Messrs. Hime, Milnes & Co., cotton brokers in Liverpool, with considerable liabilities; and Messrs. Bendine & Co., merchants in London, whose liabilities are small.

The demand for discount at the Bank of England on the 12th inst. showed great subsidence, and there was consequently more steadiness in the funds. The minimum rule of the bank was nine per cent.

The Times says:

"Mr. W. S. Groves, a merchant in London, committed suicide recently. The evidence at the inquest showed that he had sustained very severe losses in connexion with America, and his partner being at present in New-York, while alone here the trouble had preyed upon his mind in a most distressing manner. His principal transactions were on the Corn Exchange."

THE CONFEDERATE LOAN.

The half-monthly settlement in the Confederate Loan exhibits a strange anomaly, the price in London being 55, in Manchester 50, while at Liverpool, owing to the extent of adverse speculations, it has rebounded to 64.

FRANCE.

A telegram from Toulon, of Oct. 9, says:

The Mediterranean squadron returned to Toulon this morning.

A telegram from Algiers, of Oct. 5, says:

On the 2d Lacroix's column defeated the insurgents of Bon Stada: and the Aumale division under Gen. Jolivet, repulsed an attack of 1,500 insurgents commanded by the uncle of Bon Haurza. The French had eighty-six killed. Gen. Deligny commanded operations on the 2d.

Advices from Cabul, of Sept. 7, announces that that Mahammed Khan had assumed the government of Tunistan. Afzul Khan had been thrown into prison, and his fortune, amounting to 2,500,000f. confiscated.

The Government of Morocco has ordered the Tangier Custom-house to pay the indemnity of 125 000f., claimed by France for the assassination of a French subject.

A telegram from Paris of Oct. 10, says:

Señor Calderon Collantes died yesterday.

The Patrie says that Russia has given its adhesion to the French policy on the Roman question.

The Paris Bourse was dull and lower on the 12th inst., and the Rentes closed at 65f. 15c.

La France says that the insurrection in Algeria is spreading, and the natives there appear to be obeying a summons to a holy war.

The Times Paris correspondent says: "Uneasiness in commercial circles has been increased by a statement which appeared in the papers that the demand for gold at the Bank of France is increasing, and that 6,000,000f. were withdrawn during the last two days of the week. Commercial failures are likewise spoken of."

In the Paris Corn market there was a rise of 75 centimes in the price of the sack of wheat, but was not maintained. Prices are nevertheless steady.

All eyes are turned toward England, which is regarded as the great regulator of the corn markets throughout Europe.

The Paris Flour market was dull. Flour with six marks was quoted officially at 48f. 75 centimes the sack.

The Paris Bourse was firm on Monday. Rentes closed at 65f. 45 centimes.

AUSTRIA.

A telegram from Vienna of Oct. 8 says: "It is stated on reliable authority that the conference in Prague in reference to the conclusion of a treaty of commerce between Austria and the Zollverein, will shortly continue its deliberations, in which both Saxon and Bavarian Plenipotentiaries will take part."

The Oesterreichische Zeitung says:

"The reduction of the Austrian army is a positive fact. In Venetia alone the reduction will amount to 15,000 men. All soldiers on furlough will leave Venetia at latest on the 13th."

The reports of a Ministerial crisis are considered premature, but it is believed that Count Rechberg will tender his resignation, on account of complications in the foreign policy.

THE DANISH QUESTION.

At the Peace Conference a compromise is said to have been effected on the financial question. Minor questions were also arranged, and there only remains now the drawing up of the Treaty of Peace.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times says that there are good grounds for believing that representations have been made at Vienna and Berlin, by England and France, with respect to the unwarrantable pretensions of the Austrian and Prussian plenipotiaries on account of the blockade during the war, and a Paris paper professes to know that concessions have been made to the Danes in the conference, and that a larger portion of North Schleswig than expected, will be incorporated with Jutland.

The Copenhagen Faedrelandit says:

"The conclusion of peace is near at hand, Denmark having consented to fix, at a round sum of 9,000,000 rigsdalers, the share which the Duchies are to have in the public property of Denmark. The amount is consequently to be deducted from the portion of the Danish public debt which, it had been arranged, should fall to the charge of the Duchies."

A telegram from Vienna says:

"The ninth sitting of the Conference took place Oct. 11. It daily becomes more apparent that the negotiations, which are being vigorously carried on are taking a favorable turn."

PRUSSIA.

A telegram from Berlin, of Oct. 10, says: The Crown Prince and Princess of Prussia have abandoned their intention of visiting Nice. They will proceed to Switzerland, and will return to Berlin on Dec. 22.

Herr Von Bismark is expected here from France on the 28th.

Baron Budberg arrived here yesterday, and proceeds to-morrow to Darmstadt, to join the Emperor of Russia.

A ROYAL MEETING.

A meeting between the King of Prussia and Emperor of Russia was about to take place at Darmstadt.

THE FRANCO-ITALIAN CONVENTION.

The Paris Constitutionnel, in an article signed by M. Limayrac, opposes the views of extreme parties, who see in the Convention the fall of the temporal power and the abandonment of Rome. M. Limayrac says: The Convention will be executed in letter and spirit. Thinking otherwise, the ultra-Italian press grievously insult the King of Italy, as do the clerical press of the Pope.

SPAIN.

The Noticias of Oct. 7 says: "It is asserted that at a Council of Ministers, held yesterday, the recall of Admiral Pinzon was decided upon. Measures were also adopted for the future command and destination of the Pacific Squadron.

A telegram from Madrid of Oct. 9 says: "The Central Committee of the Progresista party have sent in their resignation, on account of their abstinence from politics in the approaching elections no longer appearing necessary.

A general meeting of the Progresista party will take place on the 16th.

Queen Christina will leave for the Asturias on the 13th."

BRAZIL.

The Brazil and River Plate Mail, says:

Owing to the war in America, several wealthy Southern planters purpose settling in this country; some have already arrived, and several more are on their way. One gentleman from South Carolina is expected to arrive here with a capital of 250,000 patacons. All these parties intend to locate in Santa Fe. In a few years time the lands in that province will be worth as much if not more than those of Buenos Ayres.

TURKEY.

A financial crisis is reported at Constantinople. Interest had been raised to 14 per cent., and money was not obtainable at that.

NEW-ZEALAND.

It is officially announced that the New-Zealanders have unconditionally submitted to the Queen's authority, and placed their lands at the Governor's disposal. They were permitted to return to their lands, a small portion of which only will be forfeited.

Melbourne, Thursday, Aug. 25.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL PER THE NEW-YORK.

The Times' City Article of Tuesday says:

"In the Stock Exchange, and among the classes immediately connected with it, increased agitation was manifested on Monday during the earlier hours, and at one moment there was a further heavy decline in Consols, and also in foreign Securities. But transactions then almost entirely ceased, and there seemed to be few persons compelled to sacrifice their holdings on such terms, and a rally ensued. Consols closed at 87⅞@88.

At the Bank the discount demand was again very large, and in all exceptional cases 10 ℔ cent. was charged.

The Bank of Holland has informed the directors of the different credit and finance companies at Amsterdam and elsewhere that it will not discount any bills drawn by foreign companies upon them. The Bank does not wish to increase the rate of discount, and apparently adopt this method as a more direct means of putting a stop to the recent unlimited fabrication of questionable paper.

The sum of £113,000 was taken to the bank on Monday.

In American Securities the only material movement was a rise of 2 per cent. in United States Fives.

The suspension has been announced of Mr. E. Lazard, of Moorgate-street, London, a French merchant, rather largely engaged in foreign exchange and banking transactions. His direct liabilities are stated to be about £200,000, and it is to the fact that about £120,000 of these are on cotton bills from Havre, that the present difficulty is to be attributed. In a circular he states that he has not the slightest doubt but that the liquidation of the estate will prove favorable.

In addition to his direct liabilities, his name is upon bills negotiated for £300,000, but these, it is supposed, will be duly provided for.

Amusements.

Academy of Music.—Flotow's opera of "Martha," in whatever language it may be presented, returns always pleasurably to its permanent place in the public affections. It holds its own with a rare tenacity. The story, perhaps, has much to do with this. It is lively, somewhat piquant, and illustrated by a quartette of nicely-balanced characters who reflect many moods of musical sensibility, and give Herr Von Flotow a corresponding number of opportunities for displaying the felicity of his invention, The latter is never overtasked, and hence "Martha," with many peculiar merits in the way of instrumentation, is never overstrained in the matter of melody. Beginning with the airiest of court-embroidered coquetry, there is in the later parts a good, stout, honest texture of domestic earnestness, and the two, deftly interwoven, form an article that is at once elegant and comfortable. As Le Follet might say: "The opera is a specimen of fine needlework and good taste."

Miss Kellogg, Mlle. Morensi, Signor Lotti and Signor Susini were the interpreters of this work last night, and their efforts were rewarded with complete success. "Martha" will undoubtedly form one of the most popular operas of Mr. Maretzek's lighter repertoire.

We desire to call particular attention to the repetition of "Il Poliuto" to-night. The work was produced on Friday with a cast that impressed us as being perfect. Only at rare intervals in any opera-house can such an admirable representation be expected. The prima donna, Mme. Zucchi, was grand beyond even the promise of her previous efforts, and Signor Massimiliani displayed very high qualities as a singer and an actor. The ensembles were rendered magnificently, and the whole performance has to be recorded as one of the best we have had in this city for many years.

THE WAR IN KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE.

Reported Rebel Invasion against the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad.

Louisville, Monday, Oct. 24.

The Journal says the rebel Gen. Lyon has five hundred men under his command, and that his move to the south side of the Cumberland River is supposed to indicate an attempt to strike the Nashville and Nortwestern Railroad near Charlotte.

Four regiments of rebels are reported at Centreville, Hickman County, but to whose command they belong is unknown.

Scouts report Forrest again crossing the Tennessee River below Florence, Ala.

A force of four hundred rebels was at Owenboro on Friday.

A guerrilla leader, calling himself Col. Chenowith, was in Henderson, Ky., on Friday. His band committed but few depredations.

It is thought that the several outlaw bands scattered along the Ohio River, between the mouth of Salt River and Evansville, will number 2,000.

Retreat of Price.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Gen. Grant Visits the New Lines—How the Soldiers Will Vote—Union Ballots in Demand.

Washington, Monday, Oct. 24.

The Times' special correspondent with the Fifth Army Corps transmits the following to this bureau:

Weldon Road, Saturday, Oct. 22.

Gen. Grant made an informal visit to the new lines established on our left, by the recent advance. The Lieutenant-General, accompanied by Maj.-Gen. Meade, Brig.-Gen. Hunt, Chief of Artillery of the Army of the Potomac, and Gen. Crawford, of the Fifth Corps, made a detour of the lines; starting from the "Brick" or "Yellow House," riding rapidly along the lines of intrenchments, and visiting each of the principal forts along the line On reaching the lines of the Ninth Corps, the cortege was met by Gen. Parke, commanding, and the ride was resumed and continued until they again reached the headquarters of the Fifth Corps. It being unexpected, scarcely any demonstration was made. The Generals and their staffs were in fatigue dress.

The second bulletin from Gen. Sheridan was received at sunset, and the news was received with renewed enthusiasm. The deeds of the glorious Army of Western Virginia renews the ardor of the troops, gives them fresh spirit, and urges them on to fresh efforts for the suppression of the rebellion. When the Army of the Potomac strikes its next blow, it will be both powerful and decisive.

The New-York soldiers are going for the Union ticket. The Michigan boys are shoulder to shoulder with their brothers of the Empire State. The Pennsylvania troops keep "well closed up" in the rear. A heavy majority may be reckoned on for the Union nominees from this army. Send along your ballots, they are wanted.

Everything remains very quiet at present, the old routine of picket firing still continues.

GEORGE F. WILLIAMS.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE JAMES.

Rebel Account of the Late Victory—Refugees—Rebel Iron-Clads.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Headquarters Army of the James,
Oct. 22, 1864.

Not having been able to procure a Richmond paper to-day, I send on a copy of the only article of interest I found in a copy of the Sentinel I borrowed, their account of the fight in the Valley.

Yesterday the inhabitants remaining in a collection of small houses near our picket line on the right, called Darbytown, were collected to the number of about seventy, women, children, and one or two old men, and sent down the river to be placed across the lines at Suffolk. They were in a most destitute condition, all their male relatives being in the rebel army, and consequently dependent entirely on our army for support. For these and other reasons of a military nature, it was thought best by the Commanding General to provide for them in the manner above stated.

This morning the rebel iron-clads in the James River, which have been saucily asserting their control of the liquid highway, were opened upon by our batteries, and after a pretty severe cannonade, at which some of their guns on shore assisted, were driven up the stream in the wake of their wooden vessels, it is supposed somewhat damaged.

No other event of importance has transpired, and, with the exception of the shelling at Dutch Gap, everything is perfectly quiet.

H. J. W.

REBEL ACCOUNT OF SHERIDAN'S VICTORY.

The Fight on the 19th.

From the Richmond Sentinel, Oct. 22.

There was a great interest felt yesterday to hear from the Valley, as rumors of a serious disaste to our troops was prevalent on the streets.

We learn from a gentleman who left Staunton yesterday morning, and who had conversed with officers wounded in the battle, that on Wednesday, the 19th, Gen. Early attacked the enemy at Cedar Creek, two miles and a half north of Strasburgh. He completely routed the Eighth and Nineteenth Army Corps, and drove them through Middletown, five miles north of Strasburgh, capturing all their guns, thirteen hundred prisoneas, camp equipage, &c.

The enemy were then reinforced by the Sixth Corps, when Early fell back to Mount Jackson, twenty-four miles south of Strasburgh, bringing off with him 1,300 prisoners.

He brought off his own artillery, though it is believed he abandoned that captured by the enemy.

So far from sustaining a reverse, he routed two army corps, and only fell back when the enemy were reinforced by a full corps of fresh men. The enemy are reported to have suffered heavily in killed and wounded, while our loss is reported to have been small.

The enemy did not attempt to follow when our troops fell back.

Orders were received last night to have transportation at Staunton this morning for thirteen hundred (1,300) Yankee prisoners, to be forwarded South.

Later—Since writing the above, official dispatches have been received, which state that Gen. Early attacked Sheridan's camp on Cedar Creek, before day on the 19th, and surprised and routed the Eighth and Nineteenth Corps and drove the Sixth Corps beyond Middletown, capturing eighteen pieces of artillery and thirteen hundred prisoners, which were safely brought off, but the enemy subsequently made a stand, and in turn attacked Gen. Early, causing his line to give way.

On the retreat the enemy captured thirty pieces of artillery.

Our net loss was twenty-three pieces of artillery and some wagons and ambulances.

Our loss in killed and wounded was less than one thousand. Our loss in prisoners is thought to be small.

The enemy's infantry is reported to be very badly demoralized. He did not pursue.

His loss was very severe.

Gen. Ramseur was seriously wounded while acting with gallantry, and was captured by the enemy.

[There appears to be some discrepany relative to the number of cannon lost. If we captured 18 and lost 30 the net loss would be 12. The artillery, we understand, was captured by the enemy's cavalry.]

THE FIGHT IN THE VALLEY OF THE 13TH.

The Charlottesville Chronicle of the 19th thus alludes to the fight on Thursday, the 13th:

"We have authentic accounts from the Valley. The affair at Strasburgh occurred on Thursday.

Our army advanced a mile or two beyond Strasburgh, and found the enemy in force on the north side of Cedar Creek. After shelling their camps for a short time, they threw Thornton's division of Crook's corps across the creek. Gordon and Kershaw attacked them and drove them back handsomely, killing and wounding some 50 or 75, and capturing about as many prisoners. Our loss in killed and wounded was about the same. Lieut. S. L. France, Adjutant of Acting Brig.-Gen. Carter, of the artillery, was wounded severely, but not dangerously, in the thigh; the thigh-bone was chipped, but not broken. On Friday the enemy had a small force of cavalry in the village of Strasburgh.

Prisoners report that the Sixth Corps was at Front Royal. The present position of our army it is unnecessary to mention. We infer that the enemy have not crossed the Blue Ridge, as was stated—the only movement eastward being that of the Sixth Corps to Front Royal.

YANKEE DEMONSTRATION TOWARD WELDON.

The Goldsboro' Journal learns that on Sunday last a body of Yankee infantry, at least 1,000 strong, with several pieces of artillery, advanced from Suffolk toward Weldon, and drove in our cavalry pickets near Blackwater or Franklin.

Advancing a few miles further, they discovered a force of our infantry in their front, commanded by Col. Armstead, and beat a hasty retreat back to Suffolk. In the skirmishing which occurred on their advance, we lost one man killed and two or three wounded, belonging to Capt. Tate's company, Sixth Cavalry.

We have not ascertained the Yankee loss.

Below Richmond, we had nothing of interest from either side of the James yesterday.

SOLDIERS' VOTE.

The following is the vote of the One Hundred and Twelfth Regiment New-York Volunteers: Lincoln, 285; McClellan, 9. Fenton, for Governor, 294—a unanimous vote.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY NINTH NEW-YORK VOLUNTEERS.

The One Hundred and Eighty-ninth Regiment New-York Volunteers, Col. Hoyt, commanding, voted for National, State and local officers before leaving for the front. The poll stood as follows:

Union	481
Dem.	77
Union majority	304

The ballots were forwarded by mail through the proper agencies to the several proxies designated by the voters.

NEW-YORK REGIMENT IN WASHINGTON.

The One Hundred and Eighty-ninth Regiment New-York Volunteers, organized under the late call for 500,000 men, Col. Wm. W. Hoyt commanding, passed through this city to-day, on their way to the front. Prior to their departure by transport, the regiment was paraded in front of the White House, and presented to the President of the United States by the Colonel, in a few appropriate remarks. Mr. Lincoln was received with the utmost enthusiasm, and replied to the greeting which met him as follows:

Soldiers: I am exceedingly obliged to you for this mark of respect. It is said that we have the best Government the world ever knew, and I am glad to meet you, the supporters of that Government. To you who render the hardest work in its support should be given the greatest credit. Others who are connected with it, and who occupy higher positions, their duties can be dispensed with, but we cannot get along without your aid. While others differ with the Administration, and, perhaps, honestly, the soldiers generally have sustained it; they have not only fought right, but, so far as could be judged from their actions, they have voted right, and I for one thank you for it. I know you are en route for the front, and therefore do not expect me to detain you long, and will therefore bid you good morning.

The President retired, and the regiment gave him three cheers heartily and enthusiastically. Col. Hoyt is an old soldier, having served since the commencement of the existing rebellion in the army. His regiment is raised chiefly in Steuben and Alleghany Counties, and will, with its gallant Colonel, be heard from in the coming campaign.

A COMMITTEE FROM NEW-JERSEY.

An active committee from New-Jersey are here, successfully engaged in looking after absent Union voters from that State. A close canvass reveals that, with little extra effort, the electoral vote of New-Jersey will be certain for Lincoln, and against the "Jersey exile."

SAFETY OF THE NIPHON.

Richmond papers of the 17th instant published an account of the blowing up and sinking of the United States Steamer Niphon. Rear-Admiral D. D. Porter telegraphs to the Navy Department that he has received letters from the Niphon, dated the 18th, which make no mention of any casualty to her.

COMMITTED TO THE OLD CAPITAL PRISON.

R. H. Rosser and James Rogers, of Mosby's battalion, being sent from Harper's Ferry as prisoners of war, were committed to the old capital prison, Lewis Benedict and John A. Washington, of Mosby's battalion were also committed. Capt. Carey, Co. A, Sixteenth Virginia Cavalry, was committed to-day.

Willett for the regiment.

EFFICACY OF THE MEASURES AGAINST GUERRILLAS.

Since the clearing of the line of the Manassas Gap Railroad of woods and underbrush by the Quartermasters' men, and since the plan of sending out safety-guards of secesh citizens of Alexandria upon each train, has been adopted, there has not been a guerrilla seen on the road; and, of course, depredations on it have ceased entirely.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

Washington, Monday, Oct. 24.

THE GUNBOAT NIPHON SAFE.

The Richmond papers of the 17th, published an account of the blowing up and sinking of the United States steamer Niphon. Admiral Porter, to-day, telegraphed to the Navy Department that he had received letters from officers on board the Niphon, dated the 18th, so the publication is undoubtedly untrue.

TRIAL OF THE BLOCKADE-RUNNERS.

The trial of Messrs. Johnson & Sutton, dry-goods merchants of this city, arrested several days ago charged with selling goods to the blockede-runners, was resumed to-day. The prosecution having been closed, the counsel for the defence produced witnesses to-day, who testified to the loyalty of the firm. The trial will continue several days, and will be followed by the other firms arrested in this city and Baltimore.

CAPTURE OF A GUERRILLA.

A rebel named John A. Washington, one of Mosby's desperate guerrillas, was captured near Rectortown, Va., on Saturday. A number of dispatches are said to have been found on him when captured. Mosby's and White's gangs of guerrillas are again hovering around in Fairfax, Loudon and the adjoining counties. Yesterday a number of Mosby's scouts made their appearance in the vicinity of the Great Falls of the Potomac, about eighteen miles from this city. Two of them were captured and brought in.

DRAFT IN WASHINGTON RESUMED.

The draft was resumed in this city to-day, to fill the deficiencies existing in the quotas of the various Wards. Among those drafted was the doorkeeper of the Presidential mansion, who makes the fourth attachè of the White House who has been drafted within the past two months.

Gen. Custer has been promoted to be a Major-General, in consideration of his brilliant services in the Valley. This was announced to Gen. Custer at the War Department to-day during the presentation of the flags captured by Sheridan's forces in their late victory at Cedar Creek, and was received with loud applause by the large crowd assembled to witness the presentation.

CONDITION OF GEN. RICKETTS.

Gen. Ricketts is reported to be in a very low condition to-day. The ball, which entered his right breast, and passed through his lungs, was extracted this morning from near the shoulder-blade. His right lung is much inflamed, and it is feared that internal bleeding has commenced, caused by the cutting of an artery.

GEO. H. PENDLETON IN NEW-YORK.

Serenade at the New-York Hotel—He Makes a Speech.

Hon. George H. Pendleton was serenaded last night at the New-York Hotel by the McClellan Legiod, an association composed of former soldiers of the Army of the Potomac. An audience of several thousand persons having assembled, Mr. Pendleton was introduced by Hon. John Van Buren, when he he said:

I thank you for this manifestation of your kind feeling toward myself. I am the more grateful for it as it comes from men who have stood in the fore front of danger, and perilled their lives for their country. [Loud cheers.] I accept it as an evidence of your confidence in and of your sympathy with my devotion to the Union and the Constitution. [Three cheers for Geo. H. Pendleton.]

I have rarely found it necessary to reply to any personal attack. A friend has just handed me a pamphlet, which he tells me has extensive circulation both here and in the army. It professes to be a record of my speeches and votes in Congress, and to prove from them my hostility to the Repnblic. It professes to be published by the "Union Congressional Committee," and to be compiled from the Congressional Globe, to which it appeals for its entire accuracy. On the seventh page of that pamphlet I am charged with having voted against certain resolutions on the 7th July, 1864. Now, if any of you gentlemen will examine the Globe, or the file of any daily newspaper of your city, or will even tax his recollection, he will find than Congress adjourned on the 4th day of July, 1854. [Great laughter.] From this specimen of fraud and forgery I leave you to judge of the credibility of the whole fabrication.

I was born in Ohio. I have lived all my life in the Northwest. I know the sentiment of the people. I sympathize entirely with it. They are attached by every tie of affection and interest to this Union. [Loud cheering.]

Unlike New-York they have never known another Government; they never existed as a political community before this Government was formed, and their hearts cling to this Government with indescribable tenacity. [Great applause.] Unlike you they are inland people, chiefly devoted to agriculture. As an integral and controlling portion of the Union, they have prestige and power — they fear from disunion, isolation from the world, and the loss of that prestige and power. (Cheers.) Their interest requires that they should have speedy and easy communication with the ocean, and this they intend to have both by the Gulf of Mexico and the city of New-York, by conciliation and in peace if they can, by all the force and power which a teeming population and a fruitful soil give them if they must. [Loud cheers. They believe that the first step toward maintaining the Union is the election of Gen. McClellan. [Great cheering.] They believe that the restoration of the Democratic party to power will produc Union. [Cheers.] They believe the policy of this Administration toward both the Southern and Northern States is fatal to the Union. ["That's so."] Gen. McClellan, in his Harrison Landing letter said: "Neither confiscation of property, nor political executions of persons, nor territorial organization of States, nor forcible abolition of slavery, should be for one moment thought of," [Cheers.]

In his letter of acceptance he said: "The Union was originally formed by the exercise of a spirit of conciliation and compromise. To restore and preserve it a like spirit must prevail in the councils of the country and in the hearts of the people." [Cheers.]

The Democratic party is pledged to an unswerving fidelity to the Union under the Constitution. [Cheers.] It is pledged to "the restoration of peace on the basis of the Federal Union of the States." [Loud applause.]

We believe, nay, we know, that if this party shall be restored to power, if this policy shall prevail, the Union shall be restored, State after State will return to us, and the echoes of our rejoicing will come down to us from the vaults of Heaven itself, in token that Deity approves that statesmanship which tempers all its policy with moderation and justice and conciliation. [Cheers.]

When next I meet you I hope we may have already entered on that work. Again, gentlemen, I thank you for your attention, and wish you good night. (Loud and long cheers followed the speech.)

The Maryland Constitutional Election—Its Validity to be Tested.

Baltimore, Monday, Oct. 24.

In the Superior Court of this city, to-day, an application was made in behalf of the opponents of the new Constitution for a mandamus directed to Gov. Bradford, commanding him to exclude from being counted the votes of the soldiers now out of the State. The Court dismissed the application, the Court being of the opinion that no sufficient grounds existed for the interposition of the Court in the matter. The counsel immediately filed an appeal from the above order, and the record was made up and sent last evening to the Court of Appeals, before which an appeal will be had to-day or to-morrow. In addition to Mr. Alexander, it is stated that the Hon. Reverdy Johnson and William Schley, Esq., are engaged on the part of the petitioner, while Henry Stockbridge and Archibald Stirling, Jr., Esqs., will appear for the Governor.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Rally of the War Democracy.

The War Democracy of the east side of the town met at Botanic Hall, No. 68 East Broadway, Saturday evening, H. C. PAGE, Esq., Chairman of the General Committee, presiding. There were a goodly number present, including a number of Democrats who did not like the Chicago platform, but had not yet made up their minds to vote for LINCOLN and JOHNSON, because they had belonged to their party so long. Before they left, however, very many of them, from the rays of Union light afforded them by the speakers, were ready to shout for the Union nominees.

TIMOTHY CRONIN, Esq., of the Sixteenth Ward, was the first speaker, who ably discussed the issues involved in the canvass. His remarks were warmly applauded.

Hon. THEODORIC R. WESTBROOK, of Ulster County, a life-long Democrat and formerly Representative in Congress from this State, followed in an eloquent address, creating great enthusiasm. His demolition of the Chicago platform was complete, and his eulogy of the past traditions and glory of the Democratic party, contrasted with its present humiliating attitude, was emphatic. His review of the successes of our army and navy were conclusive.

Hon. EPES E. ELLERY, Union candidate for Congress in the Fifth District, being discovered among the audience, the Chairman called on him to come forward, and he was warmly greeted by those present. Mr. ELLERY, in a few but comprehensive remarks, expressed his views, and returned his thanks for the compliment.

The call for the convention and mass meeting of the Democracy opposed to the Chicago Platform, to be held at the Cooper Institute in this city on the 1st of November, was read, and received with long applause; and, with repeated cheers, the meeting adjourned.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

IMPROVED DWELLINGS FOR THE POOR.—The matter of improved dwellings for the laboring classes and the poor is attracting an attention which, it is to be hoped, will result in good. The manner in which many of the inhabitants of the city live is revolting and seems incredible. The Citizen, in a recent number, says that a medical gentleman connected with the association visited a tenement-house forty feet front, in which one hundred and thirty-four families were living. Is it right to say living? Should it not be written that one hundred and thirty-four families were dying beneath that roof? Can the children in this crowded house stand any chance for their lives? Another party tells of visiting a room about twelve feet square, with a bedroom attached, in which he saw at one time no less than thirteen individuals, all breathing the same impure and unwholesome air, while the stench from the accumulated filth in the yard below was intolerable. The family residing in these "apartments" (?) consisted of a widow with a daughter over eighteen years old, and three sons, aged respectively sixteen, fourteen and eight years, and all occupying the same bed on the floor. The widow took in lodgers, and in one corner of the same floor lay two sisters, who paid two shillings per night for their bed, such as it was, and in another corner lay the niece of the widow, a married woman, while the dark room was occupied by a man, his wife and three children. Beneath these apartments was a damp cellar, "with ground for the floor," where about a dozen "boarders," men and women, lay like pigs in a sty, and the family who boarded them consisted of five individuals, making seventeen in all!

INSPECTION OF THE CITY REGIMENTS.—The annual Fall inspection of the city regiments commenced yesterday with the inspection of the Seventh and the Eighth. Both regiments were out in force, and were most creditably passed upon. The other regiments will be inspected as follows: Tuesday, Oct. 25.—First Regiment, Tompkins-square, 10 A. M.; Third Regiment, Tompkins-square, 12 M.; Ninth Regiment, State Arsenal, 10½ A. M.; Thirty-seventh Regiment, State Arsenal, 11 A. M.; Fifty-fifth Regiment, State Arsenal, 12 M. Wednesday, Oct. 26.—Second Regiment, Armory, Seventh-street and Hall-place, 7 P. M. Thursday, Oct. 27.—Fourth Regiment, City Armory, 9 A. M.; Fifth Regiment, Washington-square, 10 A. M.; Sixth Regiment, Washington square, 11 A. M.; Twelfth Regiment, Washington-square, 12 M.; Eighty-second Regiment, Washington-square, 1 P. M.; Seventy-first Regiment, Washington-square, 1½ P. M.; Ninety-sixth Regiment, Washington-square, 2 P. M. Monday, Oct. 31.—Eleventh Regiment, Washington-square, 10 A. M.; Twenty-second Regiment, Washington-square, 11 A. M.

THE $50,000 ROBBERY IN BOSTON—INVESTIGATION BEFORE JUSTICE DOWLING.—An investigation was commenced yesterday before Justice DOWLING, at the Tombs, in the case of Mr. JOHN B. MANNING, of the firm of MANNING & DE FORREST, brokers of No. 19 Wall-street, who was arrested a short time since on suspicion of having been in some way connected with the $50,000 robbery of Treasury notes, stocks and bonds in Boston, on the 25th of August last. Mr. GEORGE W. RILEY, of the firm of BREWSTER, SWEET & Co., testified to the theft as charged in the complaint. THOMAS H. CORWIN, barkeeper for ALEXANDER MATHEWS, at No. 222 Greenwich-street, testified that he received a $100 Treasury note (7 3-10) from Mr. MANNING. The note was taken at the bar on a Saturday evening. On the following Monday witness went to the Sub-Treasury Office to get it changed. He was there told it had been stolen. He then went to MANNING's office. The latter looked at the bill, and remarked there had been such bills stolen, and declined to purchase it. The investigation stands adjourned until this afternoon.

THE INCENDIARY FIRE IN DUANE-STREET—ARREST ON SUSPICION.—Fire-Marshal BAKER was engaged yesterday afternoon in investigating the case of the alleged incendiary fire on the premises No. 149 Duane-street, on Sunday afternoon. The affidavits of Officers FIELD and GUNSON, of the Fifth Precinct, were taken. It was their opinion that the fire was incendiary. A brace and bit, with which the hole was bored through the wooden partition leading from the hallway into the store of LEAHY, commission merchant, were found in the room of THOMAS B. BOYD, who occupied a room on the same floor. Other facts and circumstances connected with the fire, pointed so strongly toward Mr. BOYD as the incendiary that, by direction of Marshal BAKER, he was arrested, and Justice DOWLING committed him to the Tombs in default of $2,500 bail.

THE MARYLAND CONSTITUTION.—We are requested to state that Marylanders residing in New-York and vicinity, who may desire to unite in a celebration of the accession of the State of their former residence to the great family of free States, will learn of an opportunity to do so by sending their names and address, without delay, to the care of Dr. J. E. SNODGRASS, No. 184 East Broadway.

FLAG-RAISING AT WESTFIELD, S. I.—A meeting was held on Saturday evening, Oct. 22, at G. A. COLE's, Anandale, for the purpose of raising a Union flag, and to start a Union club. Much enthusiasm was manifested, and over 100 signatures were obtained, many of whom were formerly old leaders of the Democratic party. It was resolved that they meet every Saturday evening until election.

MONDAY, Oct. 24—P. M.

The Weekly Averages of the old Banks of the City of New-York, on Saturday, Oct. 22, 1864, present, in the aggregate, the following changes from the previous exhibit Oct. 15:

Increase in Loans	$381,494
Increase in Specie	488,328
Decrease in Circulation	59,488
Increase in Undrawn Deposits	563,800

Including the Clearing-house operations of the week, which show the inter-exchanges between the Banks, including also the Sub-Treasury balance at the close of the week, the following is the general comparison with the previous exhibit, and also with the movement this time last season:

	Oct. 24. 1863.	Oct. 22, 1864.	Oct. 15. 1864.
Capital	$69,401,000	$69,927,735	$69,927,735
Loans	204,013,870	185,738,764	185,357,270
Specie	28,804,915	21,010,360	20,522,032
Circulation	5,799,097	3,991,779	4,051,267
Gross Deposits	250,683,505	246,006,685	232,704,823

In Sub-Trea'ry.	35,065,560	35,017,515	24,873,905

Another addition of about half a million of dollars is made on the present Bank return to the Specie average. The line of Specie Deposits is correspondingly advanced, while the Currency Deposits are fully equal to last Monday, notwithstanding the payments made through the week to the Treasury Office on the New Loan.

There is an improved temper of speculation on the Stock Exchange to-day, encouraged by the continued ease in Money to the Brokers, and the large Railway traffic on nearly all the New-York and Western lines. New-York Central attracts more attention than last week, and rose 2½ ℘ cent., and there was especial buoyancy in several of the Western stocks, Rock Island advancing as much as 4 ℘ cent. on Saturday's sales. The Government Stocks were a fraction higher on the 6 per cents of 1881, and steady on the 5-20's. The Miscellaneous Shares were higher on Cumberland, Quicksilver, Atlantic Mail, Pacific Mail and Mariposa. At the Second Board, this afternoon, the biddings generally were very spirited. The advances made on Pacific Mail and Rock Island brought but little cash Stock until the extreme figure was reached. At 95 per cent. 2,000 shares Rock Island were sold.

The Gold Room was in the control of the speculators for the rise. The price went up rapidly to about 217 ℘ cent., from which the sales receded to 216 ℘ cent. The manipulation of the movement by a few prominent buyers was said to be helped by certain adverse, though vague, rumors from Georgia, but like the Rome story early last week, they came through secession channels, and are probably no more reliable. The market for Bills for the Boston steamer is dull.

The following quotations were made at 4 o'clock, as compared with Saturday. The Railways were generally firm, and Government Stocks steady:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Richmond papers of the 22d acknowledge a defeat in the Shenandoah Valley, and say they lost twenty-three guns, besides those they had taken at first, and about one thousand killed and wounded, with a few prisoners.

The steam gunboat Jason, from Bermuda 17th inst., arrived at Halifax yesterday. She reports that the pirate BRAINE and his associates, who captured and burned the steamship Roanoke, were on trial, and that the court had refused to bail them. The yellow fever was abating at Bermuda.

Admiral PORTER communicates to the Navy Department the capture of the steamer Nundo, a blockade-runner of 600 tons. Her cargo consisted of 550 bales of cotton. The capture was made by the United States steamer Fort Jackson.

An arrival from the Army of the Potomac reports that heavy firing was heard nearly all Saturday night toward the James River, apparently from our gunboats. The enemy shelled the working party at Dutch Gap most all day Saturday, but without effecting any damage.

The United States transport Arago, HENRY A. GADSDEN, Commander, from Port Royal, S. C., at 1 o'clock, Friday, Oct. 2, consigned to Major STEWART VAN VLIET, Quartermaster U. S. A., arrived at 6 P. M. yesterday. On Wednesday, Oct. 19. a large naval fleet arrived off Charleston, S. C., including schooners laden with ammunition and subsistence stores. Their destination was unknown. Schooner Chrysolite, from Philadelphia, for Washington, with Government coal, foundered on the 9th inst., off Chincoteaugue Shoals. Capt. SHEPPARD and crew were picked up and taken to Port Royal, S. C., by schooner David S. Siner, and arrived on the 16th inst. We are indebted to Purser ELY, of the Arago, for the prompt delivery of our news packages.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship New-York, from Southampton Oct. 12, arrived at this port yesterday. The Belgian, from Liverpool on the 13th, via Queenstown Oct. 14, arrived off Father Point yesterday. The news by these arrivals is five days later. The most portant item is the reported departure of Capt. SEMMES, the notorious pirate, from Liverpool, with eight officers and one hundred men, for Madeira, there to man the steamer Ranger, which has been lying there some time. The United States steam frigate Niagara had arrived off Shereham with a Spanish steamer, seized under suspicion of being a blockake-runner. The ship Southern Rights, of Richmond, Me., was captured Aug. 22, by the pirate Florida, and released under bonds. The commercial depression in England still continued, and more failures were reported. Uneasiness was also felt in French commercial circles. The Confederate loan was quoted at 55.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Gold Ro m advanced yesterday to 216@217 ℔ cent. The Stock Market was livelier on the Railway list, and steady for Governments. Money easy at 7 ℔ cent. to the Brokers.

The Cattle market opened yesterday extremely dull, and continued quite inactive during the day. The books at Forty-fourth-street indicated a supply of about 3,800 fresh cattle. There were, besides, between two and three hundred State cattle. The number was considerably less than last Monday, but the market was decidedly slower, and prices declined about 1c. on the average. The cause of this depression is attributed, in part, to the surplus supply of last week; the weather, also, was warm and unfavorable for butchers. The market was really overstocked, and some bullocks were driven out to graze. Medium to good steers sold at 12½c.@17c. ℔ lb. for the estimated dressed weight, while a few prime beeves brought 18c. Nearly 1,700 were sold at Bergen. Sheep have declined in price, medium selling at 7c., and some choice ones as high as 8¼c., live weight; lambs from $3 to $6 50 ℔ head.

Influenced by the rise in Gold yesterday, the principal kinds of Produce and Merchandise attracted more attention, and were generally quoted much firmer. The freight market was quiet and unsettled.

The Nashville Union of Oct. 21 says SHERMAN's advance encamped on Tuesday night on the Coosa, near Glen Willie, eight miles west of Rome. He is pushing on, by a route parallel with that of HOOD, and a few miles to the east of him. No fighting of consequence had taken place.

JAMES NORRIS, the last of the Port Jervis counterfeiters, was brought before United States Commissioner OSBORN yesterday, and committed for trial in default of $10,000 bail. Prisoner is a well-dressed, intelligent-looking young man.

A grand mass Union meeting takes place at Bridgeport, Conn., on Thursday of this week, which promises to be a fine affair. Among the speakers enguged are Hon. H. J. RAYMOND, Brig.-Gen. O. S. TERRY, Gen. COCHRAN, Gen. E. W. GANTT, Hon. LEWIS D. CAMPBELL, of Ohio, and others.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Young Men's Republican Uuion, of New-York, was held last evening at their headquarters, corner of Broadway and Thirteenth-street. Hon. JOSEPH HOXIE, Gen. L. CUTLER and Dr. SNODGRASS, of Maryland, spoke and was very well received. When, after cheers for LINCOLN and JOHNSON and the Union, the meeting adjourned.

The Veteran Union Club held a meeting last night at their rooms, No. 710 Broadway, the President, Dr. F. WILLIS FISHER in the chair. Speeches were made by Capt. SMITH, of Illinois, and others. The Veterans will hold their second grand mass meeting at the Cooper Institute on the 3d of November next. One of the most distinguished Major-Generals now in the United States service will speak upon that occasion, and the navy will be represented by one of our brave Admirals and a delegation of tars. The military display and the decorations of the hall will be unusually splendid and well worth going to see.

Between 6 and 7 o'clock last evening, as Mr. JAMES S. PHELPS, of Kentucky, was coming out of the Fifth Avenue Hotel with two ladies, he was attacked by WM. A. GLASS, of No. 251 Fifth-avenue, and severely assaulted with a cane. Mr. PHELPS, to protect himself, drew a six-barreled revolver and fired two shots at GLOSS. He then threw the revolver at his assailant and retreated into the drug store of CASWELL, MACK & Co., situated under the hotel. GLOSS meantime drew a one barreled pistol and fired at PHELPS. He then picked up the revolver which PHELPS had thrown at him and pursued him into the drug-store, where he fired another shot at PHELPS. None of the shots took effect. The head of Mr. PHELPS is very badly cut, and he was otherwise injured seriously. The affair originated in a quarrel which took place some time since, when GLASS was arrested and sent to Fort Lafayette. It is supposed that PHELPS had informed the authorities in regard to him. Both parties were arrested and taken to the Twenty-ninth Precinct Station-house.

Coroner RANNEY yesterday commenced an inquest at St. Luke's Hospital on the body of JAS. E. BULKLEY, one of the victims of the accident which occurred on the New-Haven Railroad, in the vicinity of Seventy-sixth-street, on the morning of Monday, the 10th inst. The testimony in the case is very voluminous, and from present ineications the case is far from being completed. Six witnesses were examined yesterday, among whom were the Superintendent and Civil Engineer of the Harlem Road. Their evidence tended to show that the practice of running a large train with two locomotives was unsafe; that the train on which the accident happened consisted of eleven passenger cars, one baggage car, and was propelled by two engines. Other witnesses testified that the defective rail, which was the cause of the accident, had been laid down about ten months, and that it was an original defect in the iron or in the manner in which it had been rolled. It is also in evidence that the train was behind time four or five minutes, and a few blocks above where the accident occurred, they were running down at the rate of 35 to 40 miles per hour. The further hearing of the case has been postponed until 3 o'cloch P. M., on Saturday next, at the same place.

OSBORN E. BRIGHT, Esq., of this city, delivered an eloquent address last evening before the Fifth Ward Union Club of Brooklyn. Union Hall, the place of meeting, was crowded to excess by an intelligent and appreciative audience, many of whom were ladies.

The annual Fall inspection of the city regiments commenced yesterday. The Seventh and Eighth Regiments were inspected, and they made a fine and creditable appearance. The other regiments will be inspected during the week.

The County Volunteer Committee are now recruiting with considerable success. The bounties now offered by the County are, $300 for three years, $200 for two years, and $100 for one year men, and the Government bounty is the same, which makes just double that sum paid to each volunteer. The Government is paying no hand-money, but the county is paying for a three years' recruit, $50, for a two years' recruit, $30, and for a one year recruit, $20.

Both Boards of the Common Council met yesterday. The Board of Aldermen received two messages from the Mayor, one vetoing the resolution to contract with E. JONES & Co., for the Corporation printing at present prices, and the other giving notice of the suspension of the City Inspector and the reasons therefor. The latter message was referred, and a resolution was adopted requesting the opinion of the Counsel to the Corporation as to "the power of the Mayor to suspend the head of a department and the power of the Common Council in regard to the same." Preceding the Mayor's messages a communication was received from Mr. BOOLE, in reply to the Mayor's letter in regard to alleged frauds by the former in making appointments, was read, referred and ordered to be published (see official.) A preamble and resolution by Alderman MCKNIGHT, relative to the demise of ex-Alderman PETER MITCHELL, who died on last Saturday, were adopted, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the funeral, and the Board adjourned. The Board of Councilmen, did nothing but concur in the action regarding the death of ex-Alderman MITCHELL. The Aldermen adjourned to 1, and the Councilmen to 2 P. M. Thursday.

In the last installment of prisoners sent down the James River for exchange, the rebels included six colored sailors, an indication that negroes are hereafter to be recognized as prisoners of war.

The different trades of the city hold a mass meeting at Cooper Institute this evening, to indorse the principles of the Citizens' Association and prepare for the Charter election. Speakers from all the trades of the city will address the meeting. It is expected that this will be one of the largest meetings yet held by the Citizens' Association. The meeting has reference to the Municipal Government only.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of German Unionists was held last night at Cooper Institute. Dr. KESSMAN presided, and eloquent addresses were made by Gov. Salomon, Hon. Frederick Hassaurek, R. Wall of Fernback, and the meeting broke up with cheers for Lincoln, Johnson, Fenton and Alvord.

THE CONFEDERATES AND NEUTRALITY.—If we interpret aright the item of news received from Bermuda by way of Halifax, it would seem reasonable to expect that the British authorities may in time become tired of their Confederate friends. The pirate BRAINE and his companions, who repeated the tragedy of the Chesapeake in a milder form on board the Havana steamer Roanoke, have been put on trial, and the Bermuda court has refused to bail them. Fourteen of the bank robbers who profess to hold commissions from Richmond to invade Vermont by way of Canada, are also in jail at St. John's, in Lower Canada, with some prospect of their being brought to trial, not as Confederate soldiers, but as common thieves and murderers. These are signs of improvement in British Colonial life.

THE MAYOR AND THE CITY INSPECTOR.—The Mayor has suspended Mr. Inspector BOOLE from office. That is, he has suspended him as far as the City Charter and various amendments thereto will permit. The Mayor contends that the Charter of 1857 gives him the amplest power of suspension. Mr. BOOLE and his friends contend otherwise. They say that the amendment act of 1863 provides that Heads of certain Departments—among which the City Inspector's Department—shall only be subject to removal under conditions which are not embraced in the Mayor's lists of causes. Between these interpreters of the Charter and its amendments, Mr. Solicitor WHITING appears and says that the Mayor has the power of suspending Heads of Departments, but not of removing them. If Mr. WHITING is right in this interpretation of the law, the Mayor's power of suspension is sustained.

The causes advanced by Mr. GUNTHER for the suspension of the City Inspector, include malfeasance of office, in various shapes and degrees—contracts assigned to special favorites, manure undersold, names of officials on the pay-roll of an imaginary character, general neglect of duty. To these charges Mr. BOOLE makes a reply, in which he makes, naturally, a general denial of the allegations of his accuser. We cannot presume to form an opinion as to the merits of the case as it stands to-day. Either, we should not have a Mayor capable of making such charges without the strongest affirmative evidence, or we should not have an Inspector against whom such imputations could be made with the remotest chance of their being brought to proof. As the case stands now, it is a fearful libel against the Corporation of New-York—whichever party is in the wrong—or right of it.

The Transcendent Issue.

The great decision is to be made two weeks from to-day. The fate of the American Union will then be settled. It is almost impossible to realize that an issue of such tremendous moment is so close upon us, and dependent upon the little act of dropping one bit of paper into the ballot-box rather than another. We naturally associate the settlement of the destiny of a great nation with mighty convulsions, or with the long operation of some silent influence. It is something new that it should turn on so simple and brief an act as casting votes, between the rising and the setting of the sun.

This is now the absolute fact in respect to the grandest nationality the world has ever seen. The vote of the 8th of November will settle the fate of this Republic, because it will settle whether the national principle which holds it together is or is not to be maintained. There is no way whereby this principle can be maintained except by war against rebels, its enemies. The choice lies between giving rule to the party which is for such war, or to the party which has declared itself against it. If the former keeps the rule, the war will be ended before the next Presidential term expires, in the complete overthrow of the rebellion, and the settlement for all time that the Federal Constitution is in very truth what it declares itself to be, "the supreme law of the land," to be interpreted and executed solely by public officers appointed under its own regulations. If the latter takes the rule, the war will be brought to an immediate close, and it will be left to civil discussion whether actual repudiation of the Federal Constitution shall be confirmed, or merely the right to repudiate; or, in other words, whether the independence of the Confederacy shall be recognized, or the Union be reconstructed on Confederate principles. This is but a minor question—a question of manner rather than of result. Shall the Union perish by the quick dividing stroke, or by a deadly agency of slower operation?

It is certain that the Confederates will not return to the Union under any peace policy, without a reserve to themselves of the right of future peaceable secession. Their foremost peace advocates have declared this in the most unequivocal terms. There is no possibility of meeting the rebel leaders on peace ground short of that mark. The leaders of the Peace party here in the North themselves acknowledge it, by disclaiming all right of coercion. To abandon the war at this stage, is to surrender that right, and to remit the Government to a condition of mere trusteeship, revocable at any time at the pleasure of any State. Such a Government has no element of stability. It would quickly meet the fate of our old confederation, shaped after the same principle. To adopt it, would be to make the breaking up of the Union a mere question of time, and would settle our national fate just as inevitably as if we were to recognize the Confederacy to-morrow.

Of course, the opponents of the present war Administration do not generally acknowledge that any such result would come from their success. But they do not say what result would come from it. They shun, as much as possible, all reference to that matter, and devote themselves to assaults upon President LINCOLN, and to producing discontent with the war. Their conduct of the canvass has done absolutely nothing to develop whether the Confederates can be induced to return to the Union at all by a discontinuance of the war. On that vital point they have nothing to show, and for the simple reason that there is nothing to show that would make in their favor. Further than an ousting of President LINCOLN and a "cessation of hostilities," they are without policy or programme. To the clearest demonstration that the national authority, without which no nation can live, is at stake, they uniformally avoid all definite answer. They have a few incoherent generalities about maintaining the Union, but not the least semblance of a practical measure calculated to insure it. Party success is their sole aim. Beyond that, they desire nothing, seek nothing.

Even if there were definite plans for the restoration of the Union through peace, they can rest only on theory, and ought not to be trusted. There is a "logic of events" in great national junctures, before which all preconceived designs are nothing. The Confederates schemed to take their States out of the Union without serious war, and were sure they would accomplish it. But, once practically engaged in the movement, they found themselves borne, in spite of themselves, into the most terrible war of modern times. Every calculation was foiled, every theory scattered to the winds. Had they foreseen what they were coming to, they would have wooed destruction itself sooner than have undertaken this business of secession. Precisely so will all Northern theories and plans for a restoration of the Union by negotiation fail. The peace movement once prevailing, it would sweep on, bearing down everything in its way, to any extent of disorganization. Whatever the South demanded would be yielded to them. Even their Confederacy itself would probably be recognized, if that were the only alternative to the resumption of a war which had been pronounced a "failure." It is the height of presumption for any man who professes to be for the Union to trust its fortunes to what he merely hopes and supposes would result from a peace policy. Considering the almost infinite interests at stake, we might well call it an absolute infatuation.

The safety of the Union can be secured only by maintaining the principle of national authority. The Union party alone holds firm to that principle; and war is the only instrumentality by which it can be vindicated and secured. Shall the Union party prevail? Shall the war be maintained? These are the questions that will be determined two weeks from to-day. All that constitutes the real life of the nation depends on the decision.

English Discourtesy.

No two communities can be long in friendly relations without mutual respect. For years before the present war between the North and South, the want of mutual respect, and of a proper courtesy of manner between the two sections, was preparing both for a more violent collision.

The Southerners did not respect the mass of Northerners whom they met in Washington, and perhaps with sufficient reason; they held them as timid, cowardly, and money-loving, and they regarded the great majority of the Northern population as utterly given up to lucre and trade. They believed the North destitute of personal courage, and they despised us. These feelings were continually expressed both in private and in public, with all the coarseness of the slaveholders' civilization. The insults, abuse and violence to which such sentiments directly led were a natural introduction to war. The last things which communities forgive to one another are, as with individuals, insults to personal feeling.

On the Northern side, no doubt, our violence of expression on the wrongs of slavery—the contempt we all felt for the supposed impractical character of the Southerner, and the disgust we expressed at his bluster, under the mistaken idea that it concealed cowardice and unmanliness—all these feelings, uttered by ten thousand tongues through presses and platforms, prepared the way—had there been no greater causes—for the final and bitter collision of the two sections. Words of contempt and discourtesy cannot be sown in these days, between two high-spirited peoples, without bringing forth a harvest of hate and wrath. Nations, like individuals, are foolishly sensitive to bitter words. There is no forerunner, so sure of a terrible war between two peoples, as international bickerings passed to and fro by the press and by public orators.

This is well understood in Europe. Whatever contempt the English journalists or the English people may feel for the French nation, or for Frenchmen individually, they are careful to disguise it in time of peace under a manner of courtesy and propriety. No one ever hears of an English orator, on the hustings, speaking contemptuously of the French. The journals touch lightly and respectfully on the errors and sins of France. They know that a certain decency and decorum are indispensable in speaking of the great Nation so near to them. Least of all do they venture to criticize contemptuously the personality of Frenchmen, or to throw bitter insults against the prominent French statesmen and Generals. They know the sensitiveness of the martial race over the Channel; they understand the military power which France can wield, and though they may criticize with English bluntness, yet they always do it with a certain respect. They understand how fierce a fire in Europe, the bitter words of orators and journalists might eventually kindle; and yet the true feelings of the upper and middle classes of England toward the French court and the French nation—as any one can see from such an honest book as KINGLAKE's—are of the most supreme contempt and the most bitter insular prejudice. But the nation has the art and the wisdom to conceal these feelings in their public utterances.

They are equally careful with the rest of Europe, when no approach of war lets loose the savage English dislike and contempt of foreigners.

Toward this country, for many years, the English press and public men have pursued a very different course. They were not near enough to feel any dread of America; they thoroughly disliked many characteristics which they supposed peculiar to our civilization, and they did not hesitate to express these feelings on all possible occasions, in the most bitter and offensive manner. The comments of British statesmen and newspaper writers, during this war, upon our public men, our President, our armies, our individual peculiarities, our manners and morals, both public and private, have been in a tone such as they would never allow to themselves in speaking of those of any European people, unless they were just on the point of falling into a war with such a people. They have been simply insulting. The general tone has been the haut en bas tone—a kind of supercilious looking down on an inferior and ill-bred race, in their domestic squabbles beyond the Atlantic. Whatever could most wound the pride or rankle in the sensitive feelings of a high-spirited population like ours, has been repeatedly and skillfully uttered. Words of contempt and insult, which inevitably breed mutual dislike and hate, have been widely and freely scattered.

It is idle to say that these offensive and discourteous utterances have not expressed the feelings of the British people. We know that a press so powerful and wealthy as that of London, must in the main convey the sentiments of England, or it could not continue to exist.

Nor have the orators or statesmen of Great Britain, who have spoken so bitterly against the Free States, been among the least influential or distinguished. The insulting tone of the English press and platform, no doubt, represents the prevailing English feeling. If it continue unchanged in the future as it has been manifested during the last three years, it must inevitably breed war. Such words as British writers and orators now so freely scatter, bear harvests of armed men. No two nations can live in amity who thus lose respect for each other. There must be mutual courtesy and a certain decorum of manner to one another, or good relations are as impossible as they would be between two individuals in similar circumstances.

The Rebels in Missouri.

The embroilment in Southern Missouri is evidently about to be brought to a headway. PRICE and his powerful force of 15,000 mounted Western men have had pretty much their own way for two months. There has been no successful resistance made to his march from the Southern line of the State to the Missouri River, and thence westward to the Kansas border. At Pilot Knob he was stoutly held at bay for a time by Gen. EWING; at Jefferson City, the capital, he found the fortifications so strong that he thought it indiscreet to make an assault; and at Lexington Gen. BLUNT fought him with vigor on Wednesday last. But with these and lesser exceptions, he has, in more than one sense, carried everything easily before him. He has ravaged and plundered everywhere, and the Union people have suffered untold horrors. Thousands of them have been rendered homeless by his cruelty; thousands upon thousands of them have fled before his advance, and hundreds of them have been killed in cold blood. The most undesirable region in the whole land to live in, during the last two months, has been the southern half of the State of Missouri.

It is not greatly to be wondered at that PRICE for a time enjoyed this sort of success. He made a rapid advance from Southern Arkansas into the State when we had but very few troops in it; and the few we had were at outposts where they could offer no effective resistance. By spreading his men over large surfaces, by quick marching, and by well-ordered and well-executed combinations, it was not difficult, under the circumstances, to do all that he has done. What has been gained by it all to the Confederate cause, it is hard to see, unless, indeed, the Confederate cause simply represents general havoc and anarchy. PRICE, indeed, threatened to take St. Louis, which was a very wild threat; and he had some hope of taking Jefferson City, which would have enabled the bogus Gov. REYNOLDS to rule in the State capital for a few days.

After PRICE had entered the State, Gen. ROSECRANS did the best that was possible. He got together all the local detachments and militia possible, and as soon as he received the reinforcement of Gen. A. J. SMITH's corps, he started westward in pursuit. There was coöperation with the Kansas troops under Gen. CURTIS; and on Wednesday last the latter had a preliminary fight, which was continued on the two or three subsequent days at Independence, near the Kansas border, with additional forces. According to telegrams of yesterday, a general battle had been fought and a decided victory won, and the dispatches of this morning confirm the statement that PRICE was rapidly retreating southward. If this be correct, he will probably push down through Southwestern Missouri, a region with which he was very familiar two years ago.

It is probable that the real object of PRICE's movement was a diversion, to prevent the sending of Union troops to Tennessee and Georgia. It partook of the nature of a great raid, and was well calculated for this purpose.

It is notable how large a number of well-known and famous names have turned up among the Union Generals in Missouri operating against PRICE in this raid. There is Gen. ROSECRANS, there is Gen. CURTIS, the hero of Pea Ridge; Gen. J. SMITH, the hero of the Red River and of Fort de Russey; Gen. BLUNT, Gen. PLEASONTON, Gen. JENNISON, and others. The two Senators of Kansas are in the field, and on the staff of Gen. CURTIS.

THE LATEST PEACE ADDRESS FROM ENGLAND. The European mail which arrived yesterday, brought us, among other curiosities, the following from the leading article published in the London Times of Oct. 12:

> "In three weeks more than three hundred thousand good people have given their names to an address entreating the Federals to let the Confederates alone and part in peace. Nearly half of the signatures are Irish, obtained through the influence of the Roman Catholic priesthood. There is nothing new in the address, nor need there be, for all that was wanted was to express the natural feelings of almost every Englishman at the successive stages of this miserable affair."

How "the natural feelings of almost every Englishman" have come to be expressed through the influence of the Irish Roman Catholic priesthood, is not altogether clear. But it may be so.

The Railroad Question.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Will you permit me to ask a few questions touching the railroad imbroglio, and if I do not understand the matter will you please to correct me?

1. Did not the several Railroad Companies, with one exception, the Fourth-avenue, receive their charters with the express understanding that they should carry the people any distance within the city limits for five cents, forever?

2. Did not many of the people earnestly remonstrate against laying the tracks, on the ground that their business as cartmen and hackmen would be seriously injured thereby; and did they not finally yield their objections for the benefit of their fellow-citizens, including their own wives and families, in consideration of the promised conveyance for five cents?

3. Have these Companies not been making any money for all these years they have been enjoying this valuable charter, and have they not conveyed the people like pigs in a pen?

4. Shall wealthy corporations be permitted to force the people to pay their paltry tax of 2½ per cent. on the proceeds of a valuable charter, which is to last forever, because their expenses have a little increased for a few months?

5. Did they not post up a misstatement in their cars, when they said they were empowered to increase the fare one cent, by the United States revenue laws?

6. Have they not justly forfeited their charters many times during the period they have enjoyed them. Yours respectfully, C. H. DIXON.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—A correspondent has written to us to suggest to the Railroad Managers the propriety of having solid iron bars along all those portions of the Fourth-avenue where the embankments are high, and along through the deep rock-cuttings. To this an engineer would answer, that there is nothing to improve the safety of a really sound rail of ordinary construction, if it is fastened to sound sleepers on a well ballasted track.

THE CENTRAL WEST—ITS VERDICT AND OPINIONS.

Verdict of the Election—Causes of Opinion in the West—Fatal Position of the Democratic Party—Its Views False and Suicidal—McClellan Repudiated in the West—Tendency of Western Opinion—Next Congress.

THE BEECHES, Tuesday, Oct. 18, 1864.

Time is fast verifying my assertion in the TIMES, on the nomination of MCCLELLAN, that he would not receive an electoral vote from the Alleghanies to the Pacific Ocean. There is still room for a casuist to claim Kentucky and Missouri, but probably the election will show him on what slender foundation the claim is made. The verdict of the West in October is emphatically for LINCOLN, and will be much more so in November. In Ohio there was little excitement, and in most of the counties no need of much effort. The majority in November will be overwhelming, and so it will be in most of the Western States. The great struggle in Ohio and Indiana was for members of Congress. There was great feeling against many of the Democratic members, on account of their open and shameful betrayal of the opinions and interests of their constituents. Most of them had got in, in 1862, without the least suspicion on the part of the people, that they could go against the war or the Administration. This was particularly the case with the Cincinnati members and those of the river districts above. Several of these men had been on military committees, urging volunteers to the field. When LONG made his speech in Congress, and he, PENDLETON, WHITE, VOORHEES and company, voted against war measures, it was astounding to the great body of the people. What had happened that a War Democrat of 1862 should be a Peace Democrat of 1863? But this was, as the pilots say, the chute the party took, and a bad fall it was.

There is in all parties a tendency to extreme opinions. This tendency is not checked in minorities. On the contrary, having survived absolute destruction, the leaders generally glory in their opinions and mislead enough followers to keep up an organization, till they are destroyed. This was the case with the Tories of the Revolution, and with the old Federalists in 1814-'15, and will be the case now with the Democratic organization till it is totally destroyed. After the election of 1860 I stated in the TIMES that the Breckinridge wing, although small in numbers, contained the real leaders in the West, and would take command of the party. This they have done. Events show you that it is the extreme leaders, in 1860, the men who maintained the sovereignty of the States and the conservation of slavery, who now control the party, made the Chicago platform, and utter their doctrines in every Democratic press. The nomination of MCCLELLAN they only submitted to because they had the platform, and felt justly that if they elected him, they could control him. The Chicago Convention, in its leading elements, did not differ politically from a convention of Southern rebels. This is well understood in the South, and well understood in Europe. Fortunately, it is just as well understood by the great body of the people.

This tendency to extremes in the Democratic party of the West has only been fully manifested since 1860. We have some of the most signal examples of this in notable public events. One of them was the speech of VALLANDIGHAM in Congress, in which he pointed out the expediency of making four confederacies! of which the Northwest was to be one! The next was the nomination of VALLANDIGHAM in Ohio, when he was a convict for treasonable practices! The next was the speech of LONG, justifying the treason of the South, and its indorsement by PENDLETON. Recollect, that if MCCLELLAN were elected, and die, this PENDLETON would be your President. Then came the Chicago Convention, and the demand for the "immediate cessation of hostilities," which every man knows would be yielding everything to the rebels. Lastly, you have the great organizations of Knights and Sons of Liberty, which embraced one-third of the Democratic party in the West. The object of this Order was to resist the draft, and you would have seen a civil war in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, on the 16th of August, but for the efficient measures taken by Gen. HEINTZELMAN to destroy the scheme in the germ. Hence the arrest of DODD, the proof against him and his flight.

This treason of the leaders, and the extreme opinions uttered by their presses, have made a great reaction in the West against the Democratic party, and that reaction will flow on till the party is utterly destroyed or reorganized on a new basis. The consequences you see in the elections, and they will not be any better for Democracy in the future. MCCLELLAN is a dead weight on his party in the West. Never was a man nominated for the Presidency who personally received so little support. Scarcely a cheer is heard for him; never any serious defence. The people feel in their hearts that his nomination is, in every respect, monstrous; the example dangerous; an example which even ancient Rome never set, till she had been five hundred years a Republic. What madness, history would say, could have induced a young Republic to put at the head of their affairs a mere military popinjay, only forty years of age, in time of war? A naked military demagogue, without one qualification of a statesman, civil or military, moral or intellectual. If such a thing could happen, in this enlightened nation, the days of the Republic are numbered. Hence it is MCCLELLAN is repudiated in the West.

The course of the war in the border States of Kentucky and Missouri is such that it is impossible to predict political events in them; but I think they will go, with the great family of Western States, for LINCOLN, for the war, for freedom, and the unconditional conquest of the rebels. Exclusive of these, however, the Western and Pacific States give ninety electoral votes, which, with four of the New-England States, make a majority of the Electoral College. You are aware that the Constitution does not require a majority of the electors of all the States (supposing the rebel States are still States,) but a majority of all whom the certificates of election prove to be appointed. This makes unnecessary any question which may be raised as to the status of the rebel States. I mention these things to show how utterly hopeless is this Chicago adventure, and how useless is a Democratic canvass in New-York. The fact is, the Democratic party has committed suicide, and it ought to be buried at the cross-roads. Let every young man, ambitious of political honor, take care how he associates himself with the Democratic party of 1864. Its name, in future time, will be odious in the ears of the people.

The Congressional elections in the West may be of the utmost importance; for, we have the Senate, and if we get two-thirds of the House of Representatives, we can control the Government in any contingency whatever. We can propose amendments to the States—by two-thirds—which, if in accordance with public opinion, will be adopted by three-fourths of the States, and then we can complete the anti-slavery and anti-secession revolution without any disturbing questions in regard to constitutional powers. In the next Congress, we must gain twenty-two members, to get two-thirds. We have gained one in Maine, eleven in Ohio, four in Indiana, two in Pennsylvania, and we count on three in Illinois, one in Wisconsin, and expect New-York and New-Jersey to give us three. This will give us a gain of twenty-five, and will be amply enough for the purpose. In Ohio, there are only two districts in which the soldiers vote will be necessary to complete the expected majority. We need not disguise to ourselves the fact that this great war and mighty crisis will not leave the country as they found it. It is a revolution, and we must shape that revolution to good and salutary ends. If there is an Achon in the camp, a cancer on the body politic, we must destroy it. If there are defects in the Constitution, we must amend them. We must remember that we are fighting for the rights and liberties of mankind, and we must make the noble structure of the Republic so strong and durable, that, in the language of Mr. ADAMS, it shall "bear the test of time, of talent and of human scrutiny."

The skies look bright. The nation, I think, is saved. Let it be made a certainty on the Ides of November. Let the patriot soldiers not have died in vain. Let the great civic triumph of the people proclaim this successand be their memorial forever!

A VETERAN OBSERVER.

GERMAN UNION MASS MEETING.

Immense Crowd at the Cooper Institute.

THE GERMANS FOR LINCOLN AND JOHNSON

Speeches by Gov. Salomon, of Wisconsin, Fred. Hassaurek, and R. Weil.

Cooper Institute was crowded to excess last night by our German fellow-citizens, who, with their wives and daughters, assembled en masse to testify their devotion to the Union, and express their determination to uphold the free institutions of their adopted country. Among the gentlemen on the platform were Orlando P. Stewart, A. J. Dittenhoffer, C. S. Spencer, David R. Jacques, R. A. Chittenden, Henry Reckardt, Fred. Kuehue, William Ruttneff, Benjamin Lehmaier, &c., &c.

At 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order by PHILLIP FRANKENHEIMER, Esq., who, in a few pertinent remarks, nominated as Chairman Dr. CHARLES KESSMAN, whose election was greeted with loud cheers.

Dr. CHARLES KESSMAN, after making suitable acknowledgments for the honor conferred upon him by choosing him President, pointed out the remarkable fact that the entire Liberal press of Germany and the masses of the people were strongly in sympathy with the loyal Government of the United States, while the reactionary papers and the aristocracy sided with the rebellion and the slavedrivers' oligarchy. This ought surely to be sufficient to guide the action of the German citizens here; and no greater slander was perpetrated than the assertion by the New-York Express and Staats Zeitung—[groans]—that the Germans had gone over to the Democratic party. Conservatives supporting the Democratic policy should not forget that a great body of the Democrats, particularly in the Western States, were bound by a solemn oath to acknowledge the right of secession, the dissolution of the Union, and the sanctity of the commands of their leader, VALLANDIGHAM, even if such commands were in violation of existing State and Federal laws. Conservatives should remember that Democrats have threatened to plunge the North into civil war, making the streets of our city flow with blood in case LINCOLN was reëlected. These were the same threats uttered by them when the first draft was approaching, and New-York well knows, at her cost, that these threats were no idle ones. The 8th of November would prove that the Germans, whose fatherland sends such treasures in men and money to the support of this holy war, were massed on the right side of the question. After paying some suitable tribute to the candidates of the State and county ticket, Dr. KESSMAN closed his remarks.

Mr. GUSTAVUS LEVI then, in behalf of the committee, proposed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we are inflexibly attached to the Union of the United States under all circumstances and conditions, and that we recognize in the election of ABRAHAM LINCOLN and ANDREW JOHNSON, and the principles declared in the Baltimore platform, the only means of procuring the same.

Resolved, That our most fervent and heartfelt thanks are due to, and are tendered to, our noble soldiers and sailors for their glorious and heroic achievements in the field and on the sea.

Resolved, That our most profound gratitude is also due to the Union men of Maine, Vermont, Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania, who, by their sleepless vigilance and untiring energy, gained the recent elections, and whose example will be a beacon-light to all who sustain the Union cause.

Resolved, That in the glorious results of the recent elections we recognize the fixed and unalterable determination of the American people to elect, on the 8th of November, ABRAHAM LINCOLN and ANDREW JOHNSON, the representatives of Union and Liberty.

Resolved, That the German Union men of the State of New-York will follow the bright and glorious example set by their friends in the said States, and will labor with untiring zeal and energy to overthrow and overwhelm with a disastrous defeat the Northern friends of the rebellion.

Resolved, That it is the first and highest duty of the people of the several States to encourage and sustain the Government in all its efforts and measures to preserve the Union and overthrow the rebellion.

Resolved, That, therefore, the German Unionists of New-York will use all honorable means to elect Hon. REUBEN E. FENTON and Hon. THOMAS G. ALVORD, and the other candidates on the Union State ticket, and thereby retire from public office and relieve from the burdens of government those officers and their friends, who, in July, 1863, sanctioned, if they did not instigate, murder and arson in the streets of New-York.

Resolved, That we cordially and cheerfully indorse and ratify the nominations on the county ticket; that we will with all our power and with all our influence labor for its entire and complete success; that it is of the utmost importance, and absolutely necessary, that the large German population be represented in the City and County Government; and we hereby deliberately declare that the interests of Germans could not be intrusted to abler hands and more honest men than ANDREAS WILLMAN and LOUIS NAUMANN.

Resolved, That we confidently trust that the victory which we will gain on the 8th of November will mark a new era in the history of the Republic, and that on that day will forever be destroyed the hopes of the rebels both South and North, who contemplated and labored not only for the overthrow of the sovereignty of the people, but for the perpetuation of Slavery and the enslavement of all working men.

The reading of the resolutions were frequently interrupted by uproarious applause and cheers.

The chairman introduced, as the first speaker, Gov. SOLOMON, of Wisconsin, who, after the enthusiasm which greeted his appearance had subsided, addressed the audience as follows:

ADDRESS OF GOV. SALOMON.

MY FELLOW CITIZENS: The work which is before us is an earnest one, and therefore it needs that we should speak an earnest word in relation to it. The time in which we live is an earnest one, and weighty and earnest are the things that we have to accomplish. There is no greater contrast than that which exists between slavery and freedom, and there is nothing more inconsistent, both in the laws of nature and in the history of our country, than that slavery and freedom can exist together. And that, in such a condition of affairs, one or the other must be the victor, is a self-evident fact. Slavery born from a tender plant in the South, gradually grew and increased in magnitude until it threatened the safety of this country and the life of the republic. The question now is, whether slavery or freedom shall conquer. Until four years ago, when the hydra-headed rebellion first showed its venomous visage, slavery was always prominent and victorious. The compromise of 1850 was one of the evidences of its supremacy. The Missouri Compromise was another. These were adopted by the people, because the nation desired peace, and did not desire to arouse any discordant feelings between the different States. The Kansas-Nebraska Bill was another manifestation of the fact that slavery was the victor. Everything was conceded for slavery, and yet it was not satisfied. It panted for the life of the nation! In 1860, when ABRAHAM LINCOLN [cheers] was elected President, then the Southern lords and barons, the minority, arose and said that the majority should not rule; we will not yield to them. Then began the war between aristocracy and democracy, the battle for life and death between freedom and slavery, between barbarism and civilization. The question is not now whether this war shall continue, but whether we shall enter into a compromise with rebels, and bow our heads in submission to the people who demand that their minority shall rule over our majority. Let us examine for a moment the principles of that party which calls itself Democratic, and as we judge men by their deeds and principles, so we may judge political parties by their deeds and principles. Look at the Chicago platform and you can discover for yourselves what the principles of this party are. They demand the Union and the Constitution as it was in the past. But, my friends, do not be deceived; this party is Democratic only in name—their principles are not. [A Voice—"They are Copperheads."] What were the Southern rebels when they seceded? Were they not all Democrats? Who were the President of the United States and Cabinet when the first gun was fired upon the American flag on the 4th of February, 1861, when the Convention assembled in Alabama to make a new Constitution, not for the Union, but for secession? Were they not all Democrats? JAMES BUCHANAN and his clique, what were they but Democrats—Democrats who then had command of the rudder of the nation? When the war began, and for about a year and a half afterward, it is true we heard but little of the Democracy. And why? Because the enthusiasm of the people was so great for the furtherance of the war, that the members of that party feared to utter anything derogatory to the integrity of the Union. And only when the country had bled, when our fields were covered with the dead and wounded, when MCCLELLAN conducted the greatest army the world had ever seen not to victory but to months of inaction, (groans) did the Democratic party begin to speak. And what were the sentiments they uttered, what were the ideas they breathed forth? Opposition to the government, to the administration, to the war, and whenever they believed that opposition would aid and comfort the South, then did they recommend these hostile views. They were against the draft, they got up riots, they formed conspiracies and endeavored to incite revolutions against the government. To judge them by their deeds, they have but little to recommend them. Let us now see what their platform, as enunciated in Chicago, has to say for itself. The second paragraph of that document says: "In the opinion of the people of the United States, the war has been a failure, and that because it was a failure, it is necessary that an armistice be ordered so as to have a convention of States, and there adopt some plans for compromise." Do you, my friends, know what that section of the Chicago platform means? Have you an idea of its great import? It is nothing less than a confession by the people of America that they are unable to conquer and subdue the rebels, that this war has been a failure, and that we cannot carry on this war. One of the first and most important principles of Democracy is, that the majority shall rule and the minority shall yield to them. The principles of the present Democratic party are contrary to this; they demand the minority to govern and the majority to yield. Now, what will come of this armistice or convention if it is ordered. Let us suppose that MCCLELLAN is elected President and PENDLETON is chosen Vice-President on the 8th of November next; let us suppose further, that he has been inaugurated, that the condition of affairs is the same as now, that our armies in the field are on the same footing as at present, what will be the first step taken? In accordance with the platform which he is bound to obey, an armistice will be negotiated between him and JEFFERSON DAVIS, having for its prime object peace. It will be necessary to get the latter's consent in this case. Of course MCCLELLAN will not go down to Richmond himself. He will send emissaries there, and whom do you suppose he will send there? Will it be GRANT, SHERMAN or SHERIDAN? [Cheers.] Will it be our next Governor, FENTON? No, none of these; but he will select men who have always sympathized with the rebels, and such persons as VALLANDIGHAM [groans] and GEO. H. PENDLETON will be the messengers to the South. Now, suppose these men have arrived before JEFF. DAVIS, and have sent their cards to His Majesty. How will he receive them? How will he welcome men whom he and his followers have accused of waging a war of oppression against them the past four years? As a matter of course, he will receive them in no very friendly manner. Such a man as PENDLETON, whom you will remember said in 1861, when the war broke out, that if the North and South cannot agree, then I am for peace, not for war—we will let the South go—we will bid them a kind farewell—would be most suitable to offer the rebels a welcome, and to sue at the feet of JEFF. DAVIS for peace and compromise. But, to be serious. Remember that these acts will be the result of the voice of the majority, a plain confession that we cannot subdue the rebels; and in what manner do you suppose JEFF. DAVIS will receive such requests. He will say we cannot have peace until you withdraw your troops from our soil, for how can the people of Georgia, Louisiana, Carolina, and the other Southern States vote on the question of peace, when hostile troops occupy the land. He will say in regard to our blockade, if you desire that my vessels should cease their depredations upon yours, you must withdraw your ships from our coasts. On no other conditions will JEFF. DAVIS grant an armistice. But I hear my Democratic friends say we will agree to no such conditions, we will not withdraw our soldiers, or destroy the blockade, and if JEFF. DAVIS will not agree to our conditions we will carry on the war. How absurd! You say you wish to carry on the war when your platform loudly denounces it. Have you not said over and over again that this war is unconstitutional, unlawful, and how will you thus carry on this war? No, you cannot carry on this war; if you will act as cowards toward the South by begging for a compromise, you will be too cowardly to carry on this war. Peace at every sacrifice is the prime object of your platform. You cannot have anything else but a constitutional armistice, for you have always cried out the constitution. But how can you call a constitutional convention? The speaker then referred to the constitutional manner of calling a convention of States by the petition of two-thirds of the Legislatures, and then proceeded to ably review the letter of acceptance of MCCLELLAN, and of the importance of the next election. He then referred to the history of Germany, where they always fought in vain for freedom, and now had they come to a country where they expected freedom to find Slavery? They should remember the importance of the great contest before them, of the claims which posterity had upon them, that they should take care to hand down a free country to their children, not one cursed with slavery and lorded over by the aristocracy. The speaker was very eloquent and logical in his remarks, and at the conclusion of his address the audience fairly rose en mass in their seats and cheered lustily for some moments.

SPEECH OF HON. F. HASSAUREK.

Hon. FRED. HASSAUREK, our Minister to Central America, being introduced, amidst loud applause, remarked in substance as follows:

After paying a warm compliment to the eloquence of Gov. SALOMON, the speaker called the attention of the audience to the theory of the European aristocracy, that a republic could never exist, had been given the lie by the condition of the United States in former years. It has been the beacon of the poor, oppressed millions of Europe. Shall this beacon go down? No, never! We declared at the outbreak of the war that its sole object was the reëstablishment of the Union and the majesty of the laws. If we fail, should we not justly be the butt of the whole world? When Mr. LINCOLN was elected, the Southerners had the majority of the Congress, of the Supreme Court. Mr. LINCOLN did all in his power to pacify the South. The Fugitive Slave Law was executed where it had never been done by BUCHANAN, yea, even a peace convention was in session, just as the Democrats wished now, but the South rejected all. Have we any guarantee that the South will accept a peace? If they do, why have they seceded. We are unconditionally for the Union and peace, but we are also for war so long as a rebel is under arms. If the rebels really want peace, let them lay down their arms, and return to their allegiance. They committed the first offence of high treason, they have to make the first steps toward restoration. There was but one lasting peace possible. Experience has taught that the South always threatened, and the North always bowed; and history has taught that no peace is possible while slavery existed. The speaker in very forcible language reviewed the letter of MCCLELLAN, which he characterized, like the man, as two-faced. Mr. LINCOLN, with the energy ascribed to him by the Democrats, had made but one fault, and that was that he kept Gen. MCCLELLAN so long at the head of the army. [Laughter.] As to his alleged arbitrary arrests, could he do otherwise when the enemy was at the gates of Washington, than to keep the spies from getting out? The only fault he committed in this respect was that Mr. LINCOLN did not hang a few of the traitors. Who had reason to complain at that? The Democrats or their opponents? The Democrats argue that the Emancipation had thrown the free negroes into the North to the detriment of white labor. But it was not so. The negro was just as much attached to his home as the whites, and he remained where he had been child, youth and man, and it was a proof that to-day many negroes were working on the same plantation for wages, where they had been toiling as slaves. The question at issue was not the social relations of the negro; this was left for future action. It is argued that the war has thrown us into a mass of debt, inflated currency, and increased the value of gold. We were able to pay our debt, redeem our paper money, but not if the great rivers were in the hands of an inimical nation. The Germans had come into this country from a sense of liberty; they were bound to carry it out. This same sense made to-day a President out of a fence-splitter, and a Vice-President of a tailor. True to this spirit, they would vote as became freemen at the next election, and posterity would approve of their patriotism.

SPEECH OF RAPHAEL WEILL, OF GERNSBACH.

Mr. R. WEILL, of Gernsbach, spoke next, in his usual witty style. His address was full of scorching but witty censure of the Democratic German press, which had in their several papers called Mr. LINCOLN, a an-eater, a Nero, a Caligula and other nicknames. Mr. WEILL's speech was full of double entendres and bon-mots, which can only be relished when in the true Teutonic language, and delivered in Mr. WEILL's humoristic style of oratory.

The meeting then adjourned about midnight, with lusty cheers and hearty exclamations for Union, LINCOLN and JOHNSON, FENTON and ALVORD.

OUR ELECTION ABROAD.

Mr. Labeulaye on the American Crisis.

The distinguished French professor and political philosopher, M. EDOUARD LABOULAYE, who, by his lectures in Paris on our Constitution and form of Government, has shown his thorough knowledge of the American system, and who, moreover, during this whole struggle, has exhibited the warmest interest in our success, has written a letter containing his views at length on the bearings of the forthcoming Presidential election. He opens by remarking that "there are critical moments in the life of nations, when the course that is taken decides their future; the greatness and liberty of the nation are at stake; an instant of weakness and all is lost; an instant of energy, a last effort, and all is saved. It is in one of these crises that the United States is involved. The Presidential election may insure the triumph or ruin of the North. According to the name that shall be drawn from the popular urn, America may regain peace and become the model of free countries, or she may fall into that incurable anarchy which has made the Spanish Republics the prey of wretched despots, the laughing-stock and plaything of Europe."

He then goes on at great length to discuss the issues which underlie the present struggle against rebellion—with which issues, in all their relations, every intelligent man in the country is now thoroughly familiar. Of the feelings and interests of the leading powers of Western Europe, he remarks:

"England would perhaps applaud the rending surrender of America, which would deliver her from the only rivalry that she dreads; would restore to her the dominion of the seas, and would give her the South as a colony, and, as it were, tête-de-pont; but England is the country of WILBERFORCE; she has not dared make war for the maintenance of slavery; and what England has not dared do, no one will do. From the first moment, I apprised the South that it would never surmount the moral reprobation of Europe, and that not a prince would dare brave public opinion. I will go further to-day, and will say that every day brings more clearly to light the interest that all the European Powers, a single one excepted, have in the maintenance of the Union. The traditions of 1781 are reawakening, and, save a few finical and chimerical politicians, no one in France doubts that it is to the interest of the country to maintain the policy of LOUIS XVI. and NAPOLEON. The Union is the first need of America; but it is also one of the greatest interests of France. This is the price of the liberty of the seas, and without the liberty of the seas the independence of France and that of Europe are equally menaced."

For the rebellion, this intelligent observer sees no prospect of success, and as to the duty of patriotic people, his voice is at once decided and sagacious:

"Abandoned by Europe, hemmed in and conquered gradually by the North, the South is condemned to exhaustion; it must yield, and this moment cannot be far off. Let the North persist in the policy followed by MR. LINCOLN; let it, pliant on all else, maintain at any price his two conditions—the reëstablishment of the Union, the abolition of Slavery, and the South will be forced to bow to necessity.

What matters, it will be said, the opinions of Europe? America united will care little for the old Continent. Perhaps it will soon have accounts to settle with those who have laughed at its divisions.

Be it so, leave aside public opinion, although, like justice, it is easier to brave it in words than to escape its strokes. But there is a tribunal which none can flee; it is conscience. On the day when peace is signed, what will the North think of itself, and how will it judge itself?

I say nothing of the confessions that will come from the South, and that will prove that if the North had made a last effort, all resistance would have been conquered, and the Union reëstablished on the foundation of liberty and equality; but after the first festivities and the first rejoicings of peace, what will be its reflections? And then what sadness and humiliation will ensue! How it will feel the truth of that great saying of FRANKLIN, "Those who sacrifice liberty to obtain a momentis security, deserve to obtain neither liberty nor security." Yes, it will say, the war was hard, the sufferings were extreme, the treasury notes were consuming private fortunes like the public treasury, but in the midst of these calamities we were fighting for a holy cause, we were giving our blood for liberty. Religion, the country, put their hope in us. The evils were doubtless great, but all these evils would have been cured by victory; with it the republic would have regained its greatness and prosperity. But what this lame peace will never cure is the leprosy of slavery—what it will never efface is that black spot which sullies our continent. For four years we held the rock of Sisyphus suspended; for want of a last effort, it has fallen back and crushed us. Henceforth we must live in perpetual contradiction to the Gospel by compounding with injustice, and all this to leave to our children what we have received from our fathers, an incurable evil that will destroy the republic and liberty.

Anxieties, regrets, remorse—this is all that will be given by this compromise which the Democrats glorify in advance, and which they present as a claim to confidence to the misled people whose suffrage they demand. But, however shameful this compromise might be to the North, would the South accept it? I dare affirm that it would not. If Gen. MCCLELLAN prevails, this will be his first disenchantment, and the first punishment of his party. An aristocracy few in number, and firmly united, feels its strength and knows how to choose the favorable moment. What will the election of Gen. MCCLELLAN signify, if not that the Democracy is wearied, that its efforts have failed, that it wishes for peace at any price. Everything is extreme in democracy, weakness as well as strength, self-abandonment as well as heroism. A democracy that desires war no longer will accept any conditions, reserving the right of execrating on the morrow those who have misled it. It is certain that the South will profit by this advantage, and that it will seize again in an instant the supremacy which four years of war have caused it to lose. Either it will not return to the Union, or, if it returns, it will be only in appearance, constituting for itself a separate position, proposing the exclusion of New-England, or that strange system of two republics, independent internally, and represented without by the same President; in a word, the sovereignty that will be recognized by treating with it, the South will maintain, and will cause to triumph. The true President of the Union reconstructed by the Democrats will not be Gen. MCCLELLAN, but JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Will the American Democracy suffer itself to be again seduced by a party that for thirty years has always misled it? Is it so much in need of and thirsting for peace that it is ready to sacrifice to it the interest, the honor, the future of the country? Among this people, which for four years has done such great deeds, will the Democrats succeed in gaining a majority that will break with a glorious past and accept the shame of a compromise? Will it disavow the noble soldiers who, amid their sufferings, only ask to continue the war. And is it about to dismiss GRANT, MEADE, SHERMAN and FARRAGUT, to offer to the admiration of America the patriotism of men resigned in advance to the supremacy of the South, or to separation? If America has come to this, how much has it degenerated? In its history it would find different examples and different memories. From 1776 to 1781, what miseries did not the revolutionists suffer—soldiers without bread and without shoes, a worthless paper currency, towns burned, fields laid waste, yet notwithstanding, except a handful of Tories whom shame followed even into the grave, who ever proposed to treat with the enemy? The armies of 1864 are neither less brave nor less patriotic than the armies of the Revolution. Success is almost certain, victory assured, and the North is finally on the verge of a glorious peace. And is it at this moment that the American people will listen to men who propose to abdicate?

No, I will never believe that a generous nation, which has already more than once astonished Europe by its energy and perseverance, will miserably yield to discouragement, when with a last effort it can crush the rebellion. The hope of the enemies of the great Republic will be disappointed. Rejuvenated by victory, strengthened by trial, America will expel slavery from the world, and will give an example still greater than that of the War of Independence. Twice it will have secured the triumph of liberty—political liberty in 1776, civil liberty in 1864. Neither Greece nor Rome have left memories so great.

Old friends of the United States, be not astonished at the warmth of my words. The world is justly responsible, and the cause of America is that of liberty. So long as there is on the other side of the Atlantic a community of thirty million men, living happily and peaceably under the Government it has chosen, with the laws that it makes itself, liberty will radiate on Europe as from a shining beacon; America, rid of slavery, will be the country of every ardent soul, every generous heart. But if liberty is eclipsed in the New World, darkness will ensue in Europe; and we shall see the work of WASHINGTON, FRANKLIN and Hamilton spit upon and trodden under foot by a school that believes only in strength and success.

This is why we await with impatience the Presidential election, praying God that the name that shall be drawn from the urn may be that of the honest and upright ABRAHAM LINCOLN, for this name will be a presage of victory, the triumph of justice and right. To vote for MCCLELLAN is to vote for the humiliation of the North, the perpetual maintenance of slavery, and the disruption of the great Republic. To vote for LINCOLN is to vote for Union and for liberty.

To all acquainted with the Oil Region of Western Pennsylvania the name of this company, as indicating its locality, is significant of the great value of its properties.

There is no better Oil Territory.

It embraces interests in fee, and in more than twenty productive wells, and in twelve others now rapidly approaching completion; while the further development of its large unimproved area will at an early day greatly increase its product.

We offer it as a permanent dividend-paying investment.

A limited amount of this stock can be obtained solely of the undersigned at $50 per share, being ONE-HALF of its par value.

The declared dividend for the month is one per cent. on its entire captal, to which purchasers within the month will be entitled.

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES. No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK's constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. OPERA.—FAUST, MONDAY EVENING, OCT. 17, 1864. We think it really a fortune for Mr. Maretzek to have again engaged Miss Kellogg, our favorite American artist, as she has sung the part of Marguerite with such great success. Miss De Gebele, who appeared on the stage for the second time, has proven herself not only a fine singer, but an accomplished actress. She possesses a voice of real contralto, and we cannot think, as many do, that her high notes should be those of a mezzo soprano. Real contraltos are now seldom met with, and her splendid low notes fully prove the power of her voice, even in a part not adapted to her voice. It gives us pleasure to say that her style of singing is pleasing, and does honor to her Professor, Signor Antonio Barili, who, by the most careful training, has enabled her to obtain the success she so well deserves. The public has had often to admire the method of Signor Barili, from his numerous pupils. After an absence of eleven years in Mexico, he has, in only three years and a half since his return, brought out many pupils, now favorite artists, among whom are Miss Morensi, Mrs. Farnham, Mrs. Van Zandt, Miss Louise Myers and others, and has now many pupils who will come out under his direction. The public has rightly appreciated the new artist, Miss De Gebele, and she can well hope for a continued success under the care of her distinguished maestro. We think it due to the merit of Prof. Ettore Barili to mention that it was with him she studied and learned the fine acting for which she was so much admired. We think Lotti has made very remarkable progress in his singing, and, although he had to contend with the impression left by Mazzoleni, still, he was quite successful, and in some parts sang really well.

MASON & HAMLIN RESPECTFULLY announce that they have now completed the occupation of their greatly enlarged factory, and effected other arrangements for the large increase of their manufacturing facilities. They therefore confidently expect to be able henceforward to supply orders for their CABINET ORGANS promptly, without that inconvenient delay to which purchasers have been subjected, from the fact that for more than a year past they have been continually several hundred instruments behind orders. An assortment of styles from $110 to $600 each may be found at their New-York warerooms, No. 7 Mercer-st.

FORTY PIANOS, MELODEONS, AND CABINET ORGANS at wholesale or retail. New 7-Octave Pianos for $250. Second-hand Pianos at great bargains; prices from $60 to $200. SUSPENSION OF THE CITY INSPECTOR.

Message of Mayor Gunther to the Common Council.

The following is Mayor GUNTHER's message to the Common Council, giving his reasons for suspending the City Inspector from office, and following it is the order of suspension served on Mr. BOOLE:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, Oct. 22, 1864.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: Acting by authority vested in me by the city charter, as Mayor of the City of New-York, I have this day suspended from office FRANCIS I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector, for the following causes:

1. That the said F. I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector, neglected to accept or to bring before the Common Council the written proposal of one G. E. WINANTS, offering to remove, free of cost to the city, its dirt, ashes and garbage, and by continuing to remove the same without the authority of the Common Council, has caused a loss to the city of about $188,000.

2. That the said F. I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector, has allowed the claims of great numbers of persons to be charged on the pay-rolls of his department, who never have performed any service, and these persons have been paid out of the City Treasury.

3. That the said F. I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector, has so negligently conducted the business of his department that the names of eighty-eight persons are found on the pay-rolls of his department who either had no existence, or could not be satisfactorily identified by the City Inspector, and that warrants have been drawn thereupon from the City Treasury.

4. That the said F. I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector, expended during the first year of his administration the sum of about $800,000 for work, that under his immediate predecessor cost the city but $414,000.

5. That the manure of the streets, which in the year 1856 brought into the treasury of the city the sum of $42,000, through mismanagement and neglect, netted last year but a fraction over $10,000.

6. That during the months of July, August and September last, the cost for cleaning the streets of the city amounted to $241,000, or at the rate of $964,000 per annum, for sweeping alone; and further, that this expenditure is incurred without the authority of the Common Council, and in opposition to the mode contemplated by the Legislature.

7. That the said F. I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector, has appointed officers under salary without the authority of an ordinance of the Common Council, and that such officers draw compensation from the City Treasury, contrary to the express provisions of the charter.

8. That the said F. I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector, has either connived at the sale of offices in his department, or neglected to investigate into the charge, when the facts were presented before him, that such sales were made in his department.

9. That the said F. I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector, has made sales of manure, or entered into contracts for the removal of manure and street dirt, without the authority of the Common Council, and contrary to the provisions of the Charter and the ordinances of the Common Council.

C. GODFREY GUNTHER, Mayor.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK CITY, Oct. 22, 1864.

F. I. A. Boole, City Inspector:

SIR: You will please take notice that I this day suspend you from the office of City Inspector of the City of New-York. A communication containing the cause of such suspension I herewith inclose, which I shall transmit to the Common Council at its first meeting.

Yours, &c., C. GODFREY GUNTHER,
Mayor of the City of New-York.

Letter from Inspector Boole.

CITY INSPECTOR'S DEPARTMENT,
No. 19 CITY HALL-SQUARE,
NEW-YORK, Oct. 24, 1864.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN: I perceive that His Honor the Mayor has renewed his puerile attacks upon me, by transmitting to you the most ridiculous charges in relation to the selling of positions in this department. In his communication, he assumes the truth of these charges, by stating that they show that positions were sold, and that the charges are substantiated by the affidavits accompanying them. The most cursory examination of the affidavits would show any one possessed of common sense, that the only foundation for implicating me is the alleged assertions of persons charged in them as being engaged in the perpetration of a swindle, and had the Mayor not been actuated by a cowardly and contemptible vindictiveness toward me, most disgraceful in the Chief Magistrate of this great city, he would, as he could have easily done by an examination of the pay-rolls on file in the Comptroller's office, have first satisfied himself whether the parties alleged to have paid for situations, were ever placed on such pay-rolls or ever received one cent from the City Treasury as employes of this department.

That such was not the fact would have been shown conclusively by such examination.

Not satisfied with his attacks upon me personally, he has permitted his bitter enmity and malice to urge him to assail and endeavor to ruin the characters of gentlemen connected with my office, who would be ashamed to be guilty of the littleness of which he has shown himself capable.

Those gentlemen have for years occupied positions of trust and responsibility under the City Government, and as is well known to most of you, bear characters far above suspicion in everything affecting their integrity.

What the Mayor's object is in continually annoying me with these false and groundless charges, is best known to himself. Perhaps it is in revenge for my persistent efforts to induce him to perform his duty in the protection of the public health, and my being compelled in self-defence to show the public upon whom the blame should rest. Perhaps it is because I was one of a Committee of citizens who requested the Common Council to pass a resolution directing an illumination in honor of the great and glorious victories achieved by our gallant soldiers and sailors, and which resolution the Mayor vetoed rather than illuminate his own house for victories gained over those who had his heartfelt sympathies. Perhaps it is because he wishes to obtain possession of this Department and place it in the hands of his own creatures, so that he may use it for the same base purposes to which he has already applied the high position he now holds.

Whatever his object, I defy him and his creatures, or rather his instigators, those of whom he is the creature, to prove one iota reflecting upon the honesty and efficiency with which the affairs of this department have been conducted either by myself or my subordinates. I court—nay, demand—as a matter of justice both to myself and the gentlemen he has maligned, an immediate and rigid investigation into the charges made, and am ready to produce all the books and papers of this department, and any other evidence in my power which may be deemed necessary upon such investigation.

It will then be shown that all the attacks upon me and my subordinates are incited, not by a desire for the public good, for the charges can easily be proved to be without foundation, but by the malignant hatred toward myself of parties whose own records are not pure, but who deserve the scorn and contempt of every honest man in the community.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
F. I. A. BOOLE, City Inspector.

THE MAYOR AND CITY INSPECTOR MUDDLE.

Letter from Mr. J. R. Whiting on the Power to "Suspend" and the Power to "Remove."

NEW-YORK, Oct. 22, 1864.

His Honor C. Godfrey Gunther, Mayor, &c.:

DEAR SIR: As a citizen and a taxpayer, I addressed you a note on the subject of the expenditure of the public moneys under the City Inspector's department. You will remember that I had the honor of a personal interview with you shortly after your election, and after congratulating you, as I sincerely did on your victory, ventured to suggest that you would be obliged to take on courage, and that if you accomplished anything in the way of reform, it might be necessary for you to become a martyr for the public welfare.

I confess your answer at the time gave me no encouragement that you were prepared to stand guard over the public treasury, where alone you could be of great service.

Although I had no encouragement then, the receipt of your memorandum of the three months' administration of our fiscal affairs connected with the City Inspector's Department, gave me a ray of hope that if you could have some encouragement you would promptly act to head off, at least, if not to put down, the "extravagance and corruption" spoken of in your letter to me under date of the 6th inst.

Under this flickering ray of hope I wrote you the letter of the 5th inst., and, to avoid any unnecessary delay in taking prompt measures, caused to be prepared the paper sent you, forming the reasons of an act which I believed you intended to adopt—that of the suspension of the head of that department.

In your note of the 13th, giving me reason to believe you intended action in the matter, saying, "I like to put up the bars as I go along," it occurred to me that you felt able to put the bars up, although I did not see much use in putting up the bars after the cattle had escaped.

You say, "When I have a document signed by leading members of your profession, I shall consider myself sufficiently fortified to proceed." I suppose you mean by this, that if the leading members of the legal profession express a favorable opinion upon the subject of your power to suspend, then, and not until then, will you take such action. The section twenty of the charter of 1857 declares that "the Mayor, Comptroller and Counsel to the Corporation may each be removed by the Governor for cause, in the manner provided by law in the case of sheriffs." Section twenty-one: "The other heads of executive departments, except the officers of the Croton Aqueduct Board, &c.; the Mayor shall have power to suspend for cause, during any recess of the Common Council, and by and with the consent of the Board of Aldermen, to remove any of the heads of departments, except the Comptroller and the Counsel to the Corporation; which suspension, and the cause thereof, shall be communicated to the Common Council in session; if not, then at the first meeting thereof. The Board of Aldermen, under the charter, have power, without the consent of the Mayor, by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected, to remove any of the heads of departments for cause, other than the Comptroller and the Counsel to the Corporation."

Thus you will see that two powers are conferred upon the Mayor, first the power of "suspension" and by and with the consent of the Board of Aldermen the power "to remove." The Board of Aldermen could remove without your consent by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected.

It is said that your power of suspension is taken away by the laws of the State, Session Laws of 1863, chap. 68. That act declares that "such heads of departments (meaning the City Inspector among others) shall hereafter be "removed" from office only for the causes and in the manner now provided by law for the removal of the Comptroller of said city.

The power to "suspend" and the power to "remove" are, as you will see, essentially different. They are lodged with different persons. The act of 1863 simply takes the power of "removal" from the Mayor and Board of Aldermen and places it with the Governor. The power of "suspension" remains untouched, and your reasons for suspension are now to be sent to the Governor instead of the Common Council. The matter appears to be very plain.

Of course persons, especially lawyers and judges, may and probably will differ upon the construction of these statutes, but to a plain man of good common sense—as it is conceded you are—if any mistake shall be made, it can be productive of no injury and may be corrected by the City Inspector if he should prefer judicial immunity from official turpitude.

You will remember that when DRACO administered the affairs of Athens he caused his laws to be written so fine and hung them up so high that his subjects could neither read nor see them. It seems we have fallen upon worse times, when the laws are so ambiguously penned, that before a public functionary can understand the plain letter of a law he must be fortified by the leading legal members of the legal profession.

Whether your Honor shall ever get the leading members to agree I am sure I do not know, and if your Honor's action depends on that, I shall at once give up the matter in that direction.

Yours, very respectfully,
J. R. WHITING.

STRANGE WORD ON BROADWAY.

Sozodont, which is fast becoming a household word, is derived from the Greek, and composed of two words, "Sozo, to preserve, and "Odontes," the Teeth—Sozodont, a preserver of the Teeth. For beautifying the teeth, invigorating the gums and sweetening the breath, it is without a peer in the world.

DR. WM. H. GREGG—Dear Sir: In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in the five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the month of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured, soon after regaining my usual good health. Yours truly,
J. V. L. DEWITT.

PETROLEUM LAND ASSOCIATION,
TO BE INCORPORATED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

CAPITAL.................................$2,000,000
100,000 Shares, at $20 Each.

Subscription price for the remaining 20,000 shares for full-paid stock, free from all assessments, $8 per share—being less than one-half of its par value; 10,000 shares are reserved to pay expenses of the Association. The property secured for the company consists of about 7,000 acres, all in fee. There is between sixty and seventy miles of this property on rivers, runs and creeks, of the best boring territory. It is located mostly on the celebrated Rathbone Burning Spring Tract, on the Little Kanawha River, Wirt and Calhoun Counties, Virginia, about twenty-four miles from Parkersburgh, and seven miles from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. A charter has been granted for a branch road, and laid out directly through the lands of this Association, which it is expected will be completed in a very short time, which will give a direct communication to all the Eastern cities, as well as the Ohio River, by the railroad.

Numerous applications have already been made for leasing lots on this tract, and it is confidently believed by reliable persons that have returned, after making a thorough examination of the property, who are ready to give all information that may be wanted in regard to the same, that it can be made to yield an income to the association in ninety days after its organization of from five to ten per cent. per month on the investments from the cash bonusses, for leases of lots and royalty alone, without the expenditure of one dollar by the company. Lead ore, coal and timber of the finest quality, in immense quantities, are also on these lands. The attention of capitalists to this enterprise is solicited, as a first-class investment at price offered. The organization of the company is deferred until the stock subscription is completed. No money to be paid until the Shareholders' Committee are satisfied with the property, when a meeting of subscribers will be called for the purpose of electing their own officers. Books of subscription, giving full particulars, are now open at the office of

For the
CHEROKEE MEDICINES.
Compounded from Roots, Barks and Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the Urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

C

CHEROKEE CURE! An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by self-abuse, such as loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficulty of Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all the direful complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

H

DR. WRIGHT'S REJUVENATING ELIXIR, OR ESSENCE OF LIFE. This medicine is the result of modern discoveries in the vegetable kingdom, and is entirely new and different from any preparation known for the class of diseases for which this is intended. It contains no minerals. It is one of the greatest restoratives for the poor, debilitated, worn-down and despairing devotees of pleasure ever discovered. It will restore to manly health and full power those who have become satiated in the gardens of pleasure, and cause their appetites to eagerly thrill for the luxuries of life.

E

CHEROKEE PILLS. FEMALE REGULATOR. Compounded from pure vegetable extracts, and coated with the best white sugar—as easy and delicious to take as sugar candy—these "Pills" are intended to remove obstructions, and to insure regularity in the occurrence of the monthly periods.

By bringing on and regulating the monthly periods, they effectually cure all diseases and effects brought on by suppression, or those caused by the deranged female organs.

O

Patients living at a distance need not hesitate because of their inability to visit us. We have treated successfully the afflicted in all portions of the world, by correspondence.

Parties addressing us should state the disease and symptoms, and the full particulars in regard to their cases, in order to give a full knowledge of their complaints, and, unless a cure is possible, we will not hold out inducements to them in order to sell our medicine.

K

The CHEROKEE MEDICINES are sold by all enterprising druggists in the civilized world. Some unprincipled dealers, however, try to sell worthless compounds in place of these—those which they can get at a cheap price and make more money by selling than they can on the Cherokee Medicines. As you value your health—aye, the health of your offspring—do not be deceived by such unprincipled druggists.

E

All letters asking advice or ordering our medicines, will meet with prompt attention.

M

CHEROKEE INJECTION OR WASH is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy.

Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat and pain, instead of the burning and almost unbearable pain that is experienced with nearly all cheap quack injections.

By the use of the Cherokee Remedy and Cherokee Injection—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed in male or female.

E

This medicine is a simple vegetable extract, and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated, it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to subdue the most stubborn cases.

To those who have trifled with their constitution until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! The Cherokee Cure will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed.

D

This ELIXIR cures Hysteria, General Debility, Palpitation of the Heart and Impotency. It restores mental power and the appetite, and causes the rose to mount the cheek of palor, and the debilitated man or woman to feel vigorous and strong, the young and ambitious blood to course through every vein, the nerves to become strong, and the fires of new life and vigor to reanimate the entire body, building up the constitution, restoring joy and life to many a sad and darkened fireside.

I

☞ They cure Nervous and Spinal Affections, pains in the back and lower parts of the body, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysteria, Sick Headache, Giddiness, &c., &c. In a word, by removing the irregularity, they remove the cause, and with it ALL the effects that spring from it. Composed of simple vegetable extracts, they contain nothing deleterious to any constitution, however delicate.

C

We send all of the Cherokee Medicines by express (except the Cherokee Pills, these are sent by mail, free,) on receipt of price, to any part of the civilized world, securely packed, in such a manner that no one through whose hands they may pass would know the contents.

Ladies or gentlemen can address us in perfect confidence, and we will in all cases frankly answer their letters, and give our opinion of each individual case. We prescribe no minerals.

I

We wish all to distinctly understand that our preparations are not cheap ones. We do not fill a quart bottle with worthless trash and sell it for a dollar; but we do claim that our medicines are far superior to any preparation ever placed before the public, and that they have real intrinsic worth and merit. That they will cure the diseases for which we recommend them more promptly and thoroughly than any others. One trial will convince the most skeptical.

N

If the druggists will no buy them for you, write to us, and we will send them to you by express.

For full particulars inquire at your nearest druggist for our thirty-two page pamphlet. If you are unable to procure it where you live, write us, inclosing postage stamps, and we will inclose it in a securely sealed envelope, free from observation.

If what we say is not correct, if our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true, if you do not see that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and perfectly wonderful, we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

TO THE LADIES OF AMERICA,
LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS,
LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS,
THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY
THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS cure all complaints incident to the sex, and remove all obstructions of nature, from whatever cause, producing health, vigor and strength.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS rae better than all pills, powders and nostrums; being a fluid preparation their action is direct and positive, and it needs nothing but good common sense to see and understand the reason why they cure all those ills to which the female system is subjected, with dispatch and a degree of certainty which nothing but a scientifically compounded fluid preparation could reach. They are, in the most obstinate cases,

RELIABLE, AND SURE TO DO GOOD!
RELIABLE, AND SURE TO DO GOOD!
AND CANNOT DO HARM,
AND CANNOT DO HARM,
To the most delicate constitutions.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS will certainly produce the regular return of nature, if taken a day or two before the expected period, and it is a maxim in the profession, that prevention is better than cure.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS have been used by over twenty-five thousand ladies, within the past six months, and the testimony of all is, "It surely cures."

CAUTION!! CAUTION!!

Bear in mind that I guarantee my DROPS TO CURE Suppression of the Menses, from whatever cause, though care should be taken to ascertain if pregnancy be the cause, as these DROPS would be sure to produce miscarriage, if taken whilst in that situation, and all are cautioned against using them, as I wish it distinctly understood that I do not hold myself responsible when used under such circumstances.

TO MARRIED LADIES

They are peculiarly adapted, as they bring the monthly period with such perfect regularity.

I could furnish any quantity of testimonials of its efficacy from my own patients, but the practice of parading bought and fictitious ones before the public is so prevalent, that I do not deem it advisable.

Do not suffer from these irregularities when an investment of one dollar in Lyon's Periodical Drops will regulate and restore nature to its healthy course; and by those who have other preparations, which they desire to palm off upon the strength of the popularity of my Drops. But when the druggist you apply to has not got them, either make him buy them for you, or else inclose one dollar to the nearest general wholesale agent, who will return you a bottle by return express.

DO NOT BE IMPOSED UPON!
DO NOT BE IMPOSED UPON!

See that the name of Jno. L. Lyon is written upon the directions which are wrapped around each bottle. None others are genuine. Therefore, beware of counterfeits. They are for sale by every druggist in city and country, at one dollar ($1) per bottle. If you wish relief, take no other.
